State Weighs Freeway Arguments

In the wake of listening to strong arguments for and against the state-favored Route 4 of the proposed Shepherd Canyon Freeway Wednesday at Mirmonte High School, the State Highway Commission indicated it will weigh the contentions for at least a month before rendering decision.

The commissioners, headed by chairman Frank B. Durkee, heard 33 speakers during a public hearing in the school auditorium that began at 1:30 p.m. and lasted through the early evening hours.

THE CROUD of close to 200 was apprehensive and watchful as Durkee opened the meeting by explaining that the "State Legislature, in giving the go-ahead on the freeway, did not specify the exact route."

"That is the duty of the State Highway Commission," he said.

Most of the people in the assemblage, as indicated by later reactions, were opposed to the state-favored Route 4, which cuts directly across Moraga Valley.

A mass of documents and brigades of speakers were either in favor of or oppisition to the state route. Three other routes in this middle link of the Shepherd Canyon freeway are possible and have been considered by the interested parties.

This controversial portion of the future freeway is to run for 4.5 miles between Eastwood Court in Oakland and Bollinger Canyon Road near St. Mary's College. Its cost has been estimated at $10,700,000, including purchase of rights-of-way.

PROPONENTS of the state-backed "Red Route," officially Route 233, got in first licks Wednesday when B. W. Booker, assistant state highway engineer of District IV, reviewed the history of the route controvery.

He stated that the "Highway Commission has considered the other routes, but decided that Route 4 will make the freeway more expeditious."

He asserted that:

1. Route 4 will be located the most adequate service to motorists.

2. It will cause a minimum of interference with community projects.

3. It will be the most practical, financial-wise, to construct.

These are the major points of the state's argument, in opposition to the contention of objecting witnesses that one of the other routes would less depreciate "community values."

ADVERSE EFFECT on community values versus benefits to the highway users formed the keystone of objections by Robert Thaman, representing the Orinda-Moraga Homeowners Association, and Dana Murdock, speaking for Utah Construction Company, principal landowner in the Moraga Valley.

Both denied the state's assertion that the "Red Route" would not have a more serious adverse effect on property in the area.

J. P. Sinclair, a district engineer, gave a detailed report on why the state favored Route 4.

The freeway, he said, would be built for a capacity of 38,000 to 43,000 vehicles per day east of Oakland. Systematically the engineer explained why the alternate routes are not feasible.

Route 1-Redwood Canyon-The route would cost some $4 million more than Route 4, requiring a low level tunnel twice as long.

ROUTE 2-INDIAN Valley-This route, supported by many Route 4 opponents, would 1.1 miles longer than Route 4 and would cost $1 million more. It would also entail an increased cost to users of $21 million over a 20-year period.

Route 3-skirting Moraga-This route is .6 miles longer than 4 and would add $6,900,000 in user cost. It would also filter through present and future business developments.

Sinclair added that a four-lane highway was contempiated for Route 4, with another two possible later.

Opponents of the state-backed route received a setback when Board of Supervisors Chairman H. L. "Jack" Cummings said the board was endorsing the route "after extensive study." (See separate story.)

The statement represented the opinion of the Planning Commission and the Department of Public Works, as well as the supervisors.

THE COUNTY STAND was a reversal of its action at a previous hearing June 21, when it suggested further consideration of the other three routes be given.

With proponents of the state dominating this early portion of the hearing, representatives of St. Mary's College, the Sun Valley Improvement Association and the Diablo Highway Improvement Association gave rapid-fire backing to Route 4.

A powerful Moraga interest also swung its support to the state when Edward Turk, representing the Rheem Manufacturing Company, stated that Rheem "goes on record in support of Route 4."

Nature conservancy and botanical groups also spoke against alternate routes that would impair natural beauty and prospective park sites.

The Canyon Community Club, Pleasant Hill Civic Council and the Moraga Valley Community Club also voiced Route 4 support.

After State Senator George Miller Jr. told the assemblage that "if I were to guess, the Highway Commission will carry out the findings of its staff," due to the backing expressed at the meeting, Thaman came before the "mike" to point out why it should not.

THE ATTORNEY disclosed that he represented six associations in the Moraga neighborhood — the Lost Valley Improvement Association, Moraga del Rey Improvement Association, Ranchitos de Moraga Improvement Association, Lincoln Estates Improvement Association, Inland Valley Improvement Association and Moraga Woodlands Improvement Association.

He said that these groups represent some 700 homeowners in the area — all opposed to Routes 4 and 3 and in favor of the Indian Valley Route 2.

Charging that "emotions, not facts" had been presented in support of the state route, Thaman asserted that Route 4 would adversely effect "our homes and our way of life."

"Eighty-five per cent of the future freeway users will come from Moraga," he stated, "and there is no point in giving consideration to groups from Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek."

THAMAN ADDED that the state engineers had not give adequate consideration to the Indian Valley route, and that facts presented in behalf of this route could not be expected to be as complete as those submitted by state engineers.

Planning consultant Herman Ruth claimed that Route 2 could be decreased in length by one-half mile. He added that the freeway could be "turned into a parkway as a handsome access to Indian Valley."

Several other arguments, supported by teams of experts employed by Utah and the homeowners' organizations, were heard.

In summary, they were that:

The State-recommended route would detract from residential property values, would create triangular pieces of land difficult to utilize, would tend to create higher commercial values and lower residential values, and would be more detrimental to local tax values and interior community traffic circulation.

They contended the savings to motorist through use of Route 4. the shortest of four, would be more than offset by losses in community values.

They presented results of a survey showing 3406 homeowners, represnting $10,125,867 assessed valuation, opposed Route 4, as compared to 152 owners, representing $796,340 assessed valuation, in favor.

Murdock, carrying Utah's case against Route 4 to the public, then renewed the construction company's offer to give the state more than a mile of its property running through Indian Valley for freeway usage.

Schools May Ask Orinda Bond Issue

Possibility of an $800,000-to-$900,000 bond issue election in the next few months for the Orinda School District will be discussed at a special meeting of the Orinda School Board October 15, 7:30 p.m., at the Pine Grove School.

This was decided Monday night at the school board's regular monthly meeting.

Trustees; in session at the Pine Grove School, discussed problems of site acquisition and future site needs. They indicated that these matters point to the probable need of an $800,000 - to - $900,000 bond issue over a 4 or 5-year period, to be used for district building and construction requirements and site acquisition, and of another $800,000 to $900,000 in state aid.

"BECAUSE OF the largeness of the problem, and its importance, a special meeting was scheduled for October 15,"' Superintendent of School Joseph L. Sheaff explained later.

"We hope that Odell Associates will have a financial report ready for the October 15 meeting."

At Monday night's session trustees reported that the school board is still negotiating with Utah Construction Company regarding more than 22 acres of Inland Valley property.

LOCATION OF easements for storm sewers is the point still unsettled, Sheaff said.

The superintendent explained that the school district is arranging to purchase a total of more than 22 acres there for $106,000.

Of this acreage, 14 acres are scheduled for purchase this year for $70,000, while the remaining eight acres-plus would purchased later for $36,000.

Money from a new bond issue would be used for construction at the Inland Valley site, Sheaff said.

IN OTHER DISCUSSION on site matters, the board authorized Sheaff to have two appraisals made of two or three acres of Hudson property north of Glorietta School.

Dr. Miles Hudson, owner of the land, has offered to sell two or three acres to the school district, so that the district could build there in the future.

County Switches Stand; Endorses State Route 4

By SHERMAN PEARL

The Board of Supervisors did an abrupt about-face on its stand on the Shepherd Canyon Freeway Wednesday and switched its endorsement to the state-favored "Red Route," which cuts directly across Moraga Valley.

At a California Highway Commission public hearing at Miramonte High School on the controversial routing of the middle link of the future freeway, Board Chairman H. L. "Jack" Cummings disclosed the county's new position.

PREVIOUSLY, at a June 21 hearing, the county suggested that one of the other three possible routes might be preferable.

Cummings stated that a recently-developed plan, "based upon studies of this area by the Planning Commission and staff over the last few years," including detailed studies just completed, made the disputed Route 4 more feasible.

Speaking informally at the meeting, the board chairman began by saying he was "sorry the state officials and the people of the community could not reach agreement" on the disputed routes.

Then he dropped his bombshell.

HE STATED the Board of Supervisors had discussed the freeway situation in the light of the new development and could not find fault with Route 4 "from any standpoint."

A sudden hush fell over the close to 200 assembled in the auditorium, and then a rising murmur rippled through it.

CUMMINGS LEFT no doubt as to the county's position when he added that the supervisors "recommend that the Highway Commission act favorably upon Route 4 unless the route is clearly overcome by considerations of community values."

Emphasizing that the board felt the state-endorsed route would "in the long run be beneficial to Contra Costa County," the retiring chairman said with a smile that he hoped his last days on the board would be spent in a serene atmosphere, but that the freeway dispute had "put an end to that."

Cummings' disclosure of the board's reversal was the public revelation of an official communication he sent to Frank B. Durkee, chairman of the Highway Commission, who presided over Wednesday's hearing.

IN THE LETTER, dated October 3, Cummings verified that "at the previous, unofficial meeting, held at Miramonte High School, we opposed Route 4."

Don Gridders Tossed for Loss

Husky gridders of the Acalanes High School eleven were stopped short of their goal, thrown for a loss and pushed back to their own showers Tuesday night by the combined defenses of Mills College stalwarts and the Oakland police.

Under the dim, shaded lights of the women's college, six big Don linemen, employing deft maneuvers, rambled toward their goal — a pair of Mills' panties.

"Hey, how about a pair of your panties?"

The boys, rounded up while broken field running in the heavily wooded campus, commented to police:

"You got the line, but the backfield got away."

In a play unrehearsed by Acalanes coach Jean Ridley, the linemen were standing on each other's shoulders when they were detected, according to Mrs. Agnes Casey, head resident of Mary Morse Hall.

Mrs. Casey, who called the police, was instrumental in the Dons' defeat.

The incident started about 10 p.m. when girls in the east wing on the ground floor heard noises outside. They investigated and saw the boys pyramided up in their unique formation.

By the time Officers Robert Wagenhoffer and James McParland arrived the boys had dispersed and the campus was as quiet as an empty stadium.

All the boys were taken to the juvenile officers at the city hall, Oakland. They were cited for violation of the curfew law and turned over to their parents.

Improvers Protest Master Plan OK

Laf-Frantics Hisses Will Benefit Community Center

The hilarious melodrama "A Tear for Tatters" opens at Lafayette Town Hall at 8 o'clock tonight. This villain-hissing, gaslights type melodrama marks the start of the two-hour program, Laf-Frantics of '56.

The play and olio featuring 33 talented Lafayette people, are directed and produced by Louise and Dan Welty.

The Weltys have brought to Lafayette, in Laf-Frantics of '56, a scintillating program designed to amuse and enthrall. Each of the 14 song and dance olio acts, selected from the Weltys' varied experience, is a show-stopper in itself.

ADVANCE TICKET sales are heavy, indicating the great interest and support of Laf-Frantics of '56: Jim Herrick, ticket chairman, advises contacting members of the sponsoring organizations — Lafayette Suburbans, Suburban Juniors, Lafayette Community Center and Lafayette Jaycees — as soon as possible. Proceeds will benefit the Lafayette Community Center Building Fund.

Dick Burnside, general chairman, asks: "Do you know what happens when a brave, true woman of the wilderness marries a man of the world?" and "Why does Major Timberlake (as played by Cam Ashby) make a trip to Boston" or "Do the three old Maids from Lynn ((Evelyn Peterson, Melba Luna, Shirley Kahn) succeed in their plans?"

THE ANSWERS to these questions, Burnside adds, can only be found by attending Laf-Frantics tonight, tomorrow night, next Friday night or on Saturday night, October 13, at Lafayette Town Hall.

Burnside continues: "I can guarantee a 'live' show, in full color, indeed a true Lafayette 'spectacular', so give your bloodshot TV eyes a rest and participate in Lafayette's contr;bution to the world of music and drama."

Burnside cautions that "the audience will be searched for tomatoes and ripe or overripe fruit, inasmuch as state agricultural inspectors do not wan the Florida fruit fly to gain a foothold in Contra Costa County."

HE ALSO MENTIONS that the villain, Phil Dolan, as played by Jack Holder, is to be protected "by local law enforcement agencies, to insure his continued good health," following each performance.

Boys Just Don't Run in Family

It is the hope of most fathers that their children will resemble them and emulate their dads when they grow up.

Having recently become the father of his sixth child, A. D. Abbes, 20 Orchard Road, Orinda, has just about given up hope for this.

The new baby's name is Mary Victoria. She weighed 9 pounds at birth in Alta Bates Hospital, and joined five sisters in the Abbes household.

Hre husband, however, according to Mrs. Abbes, is not only resigned to being the only male in the home, but is very happy about it.

"We're very pleased," she told The Sun following Mary's birth. "A boy would have been out of place."

The Abbes have been compared to other families with other feminine offspring, such as the Cantors, since their third or fourth daughters entered their home.

"But people are getting kind of tired of it now," Mrs. Abbes stated.

Other young Abbes are: Leslie, 8; Lynne, 7; Michele, 5; Cynthia, 3, and Pamela, 2.

Contractor Pleads Guilty to 300 'Peeping' Offenses

Robert Zufall, 31, Pleasant Hill patio contractor, pleaded guilty in Walnut Creek Tuesday on complaints charging lewd conduct, according to the Contra Costa County Sheriff's Department.

Judge C. L. Thomson of the Walnut Creek Judicial District directed Zufall to remain at the county jail under $500 bail. Investigation of the case will continue until October 17 at which time a report will be submitted by the probation department.

ZUFALL IS believed to be guilty of over 300 peeping tom offenses in the past three years in the Orinda area. He was first traced by Detectives Lee Gallamore, Deputies Earl Clark and Bill Faulkner, after a description of the Zufall truck was reported by an Orinda housewife.

Sheriff's officials claim that Zufall admitted to at least 300 offenses including indecent exposure. The Orinda woman who reported Zufall's truck said that he had undressed in her back yard.

Norman Wilson, sheriff's inspector, said Zufall constructed patios in numerous Orinda locations and then returned to the scene after becoming acquainted with the residential layout.

A RESIDENT of La Vuelta Drive in Orinda reported to sheriff's deputies that he fired a .22 caliber gun into a bush when he heard a rustling sound in the back yard Friday night.

A watch on the Zufall residence on Shelley Drive was established by sheriff's deputies Saturday. Zufall was apprehended when he walked into the Martinez sheriff's office Monday to deny he had anything to do with the offenses. He had been staying at a motel over the weekend.

He was turned over to the psychopathic ward of the county hospital by deputies Monday for observation.

Ask Changes Sought by Directors

Vigorous protest to the County Planning Commission's approval of the Lafayette master plan without including changes recommended by the Lafayette Improvement Association was registered by the association board Wednesday night.

Meeting at Lafayette Town Hall, the directors unanimously adopted a resolution expressing "complete disapproval and extreme disappointment with the actions of the County Planning Commission in disregarding the recommendations asked of and presented by the Lafayette Improvement Association."

The resolution, which was offered by Secretary Charles Baake and was seconded by Bob Guichard, declared:

"This disregard is tantamount to soverign contempt for the people of Lafayette and the general membership of this association."

THE RESOLUTION was directed to Chairman H. L. Cummings of the County Board of Supervisors, with a copy to go to the Planning Commission.

The directors' regular monthly meeting was conducted by Vice-President Doug Buffington in the absence of President George Walker, who was absent because of illness.

Discussion preceding adoption of the resolution revolved principally around Planning Commission failure to include in the proposed master plan two modifications:

1. That Happy Valley be designated separately from established density ranges and that "the text explain the uniqueness of this area," on the basis that "inclusion in the low density range will . . . serve as an argument for changing the one-acre zoning pattern of this area."

2. That Moraga Road between School Street and St. Mary's Road be designated "medium density."

THE COMMISSION, at the concluding session of its public hearing on the Lafayette master plan September 25, instructed its technical staff to prepare a resolution for adoption of the Lafayette general plan with the reservation that multiple-family designation for Moraga Road does not refer to multiple-family zones now under ordinance.

Commissioner Arthur Young and members of the county planning staff said they contemplated garden-type apartments for the Moraga Road section.

Improver directors' discussion Wednesday night came after a report by Chairman William Zion of the association's planning committee. Zion asked whether the directors had changed their view since last week, and the unanimous response was that board opinion had not changed.

Training Program Starts For Teachers in Orinda

A new in-service training program for Orinda School District teachers, with earned credits to be applied toward teachers' advancement in salary schedule, was officially set in motion by the Orinda School Board Monday night.

Meeting at the Pine Grove School, the trustees adopted a resolution, according to which teachers who will attend 40 hours of the training program will receive two units of credit toward salary increase next year.

Philip Lambert, assistant superintendent of the Orinda School District, reported yesterday that 61 teachers are planning to take the in-service education course. "They represent approximately 80 per cent of the teaching staff of the district," he said.

Lambert and Superintendent Joseph L. Sheaff explained that the program is voluntary and was studied intensively for two years by teachers, administrators and the county staff.

Quarry Report To Be Received Tuesday Morning

Recommendations of a committee of county representatives regarding conditions for the controversial plans of A. J. McCosker to establish a Redwood Canyon rock quarry are scheduled to be received by the County Board of Supervisors at 10:30 a.m., Tuesday.

Scheduling was done by the supervisors last Tuesday, following receipt of a letter from Deputy District Attorney Matthew Walker stating that the report of the special committee was being finalized.

The committee includes Walker as the representative of the district attorney's office, and representatives of the County Planning Commission and the County Public Works Department.

The committee was named by the supervisors last summer to review the restrictions suggested for operation of the quarry, and to make recommendations.

Youths Captured After Wild Chase

Two Orinda teen - agers who tried to outdrive a Piedmont policeman from the Rheem Valley Parade of Homes with speeds up to 95 miles an hour Sunday were captured when their auto overturned near Orinda Village.

The boys, 13 and 15 were caught after running numerous stop signs, crossing a double line, forcing an oncoming auto into a ditch and eventually overturning their own auto on El Toyonal, according to Ron Petitt, the officer.

Petitt said he noticed the boys early Sunday at the Parade of Homes, where he was working as a part-time watchman.

Becoming suspicious, Petitt followed the boys and then gave chase. The youths' auto is owned by the father of one of the boys, the Highway Patrol said.

In Huge Ship Review

Participating in the largest fleet review since World War II recently at Long Beach, Calif., was Seaman Apprentice Michael W. Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fuller, 64 Charles Hill Road, Orinda.

Fuller is a member of the crew of the destroyer US Richard B. Anderson, one of 72 ships of the U.S. First Fleet participating in the assemblages, which was reviewed by Secretary of the Navy Hon. Charles S. Thomas.

Local Pair in Frosh Class at St. Mary's

Two Orinda youths are members of the fall semester freshman class at St. Mary's College. They are Daniel E. Ortland and Joseph B. Simon.

Ortland, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ortland of 535 Miner Road, is a 1956 graduate of St. Mary's High School. He is majoring in economics and business administration.

Testing, Anyone?

Every Orinda child from grade two through eight is currently involved in taking Science Research Associates Achievement Tests.

These tests are designed to elavuate the child's progress in reading, language arts, arithmetic, work study skills and language perception.

Two scores are obtained on the reading test, one on comprehension and one on vocabulary. The test tries to approximate real reading situations.

The test is composed of complete stories, rather than isolated and disconnected short paragraphs. These stories are constructed on the basis of surveys of childrens' interests at the various grade levels and on the types of reading matter that children in these grades are called upon to read.

Within each of these areas test items measure the pupil's ability to (1) understand the overall theme of the selection, (2) understand the stated main idea of the paragraph, (3) infer logical ideas which are implied rather than actually stated, (4) grasp small details, (5) understand the meaning of words in context.

The language Arts test measures the pupil's development in three broad areas:

(1) correct use of capitalization and punctuation, (2) language usage, and (3) spelling.

Test items are included that measure many separate skills in the use of language. For example, in the section dealing with capitalization and punctuation some items test the pupil's use of capitals in names, proper nouns, and proper adjectives.

Other items test knowledge of the use of the comma. Still others measure the ability to use quotation marks, apostrophes, semicolons and hyphens.

The spelling section of the test measures mastery of the basic principles of word structure.

ARITHMETIC: Three subscores are obtained from this test: arithmetic reasoning vs. problem solving, (2)) mathematical concepts and usage, and (3) computation.

The reasoning and problem solving section use a story approach to word problems in arithmetic. In each of the stories the pupil is asked to indicate his understanding of the story, which of a number of facts are relevant to the solution of the problem, and the arithmetic procedure needed for its solution.

The pupil is also asked to perform the computations required in each of the steps toward a solution of the problem.

THIS SECTION of the test requires the pupil to apply his reading skill to the field of arithmetic — in analyzing the logical steps leading to the solution of the problem, and in obtaining correct numerical results.

The section dealing with mathematic concepts and usage is composed of many different types of items.

HERE THE PUPIL is asked to translate verbal forms into mathematic symbols, to demonstrate his knowledge of the vocabulary of arithmetic, and to indicate the degree of his understanding of the mathematical ideas.

The third section of the test measures the pupil's ability to compute accurately.

The work study skills test differs from those already described in that it does not measure a specific content area of the curriculum.

The test materials are similar to those found in text books, newspapers, and magazines used in all curricular areas in the elementary and junior high schools.

TWO SUB-SCORES are obtained: (1) a composite score based on competance in the use of tables of contents, indexes, and general reference materials, and (2) a score based on achievement in interpreting various types of charts,

Sale on Nov. 1 For Lafayette School Bonds

The County Board of Supervisors Tuesday scheduled sale of $300,000 in Lafayette School District bonds for Thursday, November 1, at 11 a.m.

Supervisorial action followed a request from the Lafayette School District Board of Trustees that $300,000 in district bonds be sold by the Board of Supervisors.

Lafayette Superintendent of School W. B. Ellis pointed out last week that the amount is the maximum allowed for the district's current assessed valuation.

He added that the bond sale would be conductive to state aid for the district.

Brown's Hopes on Gambling Law Fade

By BOB RAPIDA

"I don't see much chance for the proposed anti-pinball machine and card room ordinances being passed by the Contra Costa Board of Supervisors," Sheriff Harry A. Brown told The Sun yesterday.

"I'm not the first one to ask for such laws and I've presented the supervisors quite a strong case. They've never taken action before—perhaps this will be the case again," he continued.

BROWN SAID, Mary Smith, secretary of the supervisors, had invited him to appear before the supervisors concerning the pinball and cardroom ordinances. Brown informed her that he would answer in writing upon receiving the supervisors' invitation in writing.

Last week Brown wrote to the Attorney General, Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, that the supervisors "did not contemplate action on these pressing matters within the foreseeable future . . ." (Complete story on Brown's letter appeared in The Sun September 28.)

"AN AIR TIGHT pinball ordinance doesn't seem possible at this stage of operations. Not with the ordinance tabled by the board."

Speaking on behalf of the card room control for the area, Sheriff Brown said that one card room is opening up in Pleasant Hill, another already exists. "Even if I wanted to control it any way I couldn't," said Brown.

"There is nothing in the books which says that youngsters can't play in these card rooms as long as they are not bars," he continued.

"WE KNOW OF card games which have lasted two and three days, 24 hours a day. In cases where teen-agers or younger children play pinball machines we are almost positive parents are not giving the money just to play the devices. We assume they are either using lunch money or money earned through working," Brown surmised.

"Contra Costa has no ban on card rooms in the unincorporated areas. Many residents of neighboring counties know this and use Contra Costa as a headquarters. When card rooms close up in Solano or Alameda Counties these persons head for Contra Costa card rooms. Again, we can't stop them.

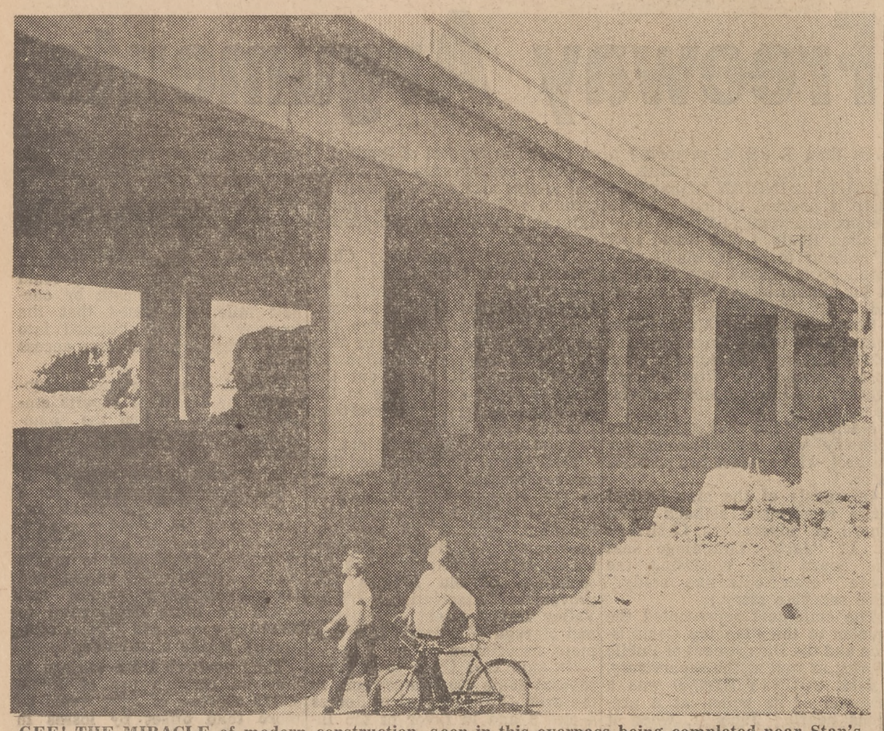
"THERE ARE 38 known card rooms in the unincorporated area of Contra Costa. We have 37 patrolmen plus detectives and inspectors. It is impossible to keep these card rooms under watch at the present time," continued Brown.

"Draw poker and 'low ball' are permissible by law. We have no way in checking whether or not card rooms switch from the legal card games to illegal games such as stud poker, black jack and a million and one other variations which are against the law," he pointed out.

"There is only one way to control card rooms and only one way to stop multiple play pinball machines. The only ways are to have a strict license system for card rooms and the banning of all pinball machines in this county," Brown said.

When asked concerning his proposed traffic ordinance which would empower deputies to cite misdemeanor traffic violations as well as felony violations, Brown said:

"I know the board hasn't seen it because I don't think it's drawn up as yet, although I asked the District Attorney's office for a draft four months ago," he concluded.



GEE! THE MIRACLE of modern construction, seen in this overpass being completed near Stan's Brick House is not lost on Raymond Threde or Dennis Roderick of Walnut Creek. Their wide-eyed gaze is much like those of motorists on Contra Costa Highway. The freeway work impedes traffic, but diverts jaded commuter nerves. —Sun photo by Elizabeth vander Mark

Sunny Indian Summer Days Spiced by Sudden Showers, NewFall Duds

Our traditionally hot September carried over into October's first day Monday, as if the weatherman had forgotten to tear the old page off the calendar.

Tuesday brought enough drop in temperature to allow the gals in Lafayette and Orinda to sport their new fall clothes, but Walnut Creek matrons had to wait until Wednesday, when the thermometer dipped to 81.

Low for the week was Lafayette's 41 September 27; Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Lafayette tied for high, each registering 92 on September 28.

Informal Annex Session Brings Anxious Queries

Genial, but often excited discussion over the proposed annexation to Walnut Creek of the Walnut Boulevard area Wednesday night ended with a city council announcement that it will decide next week to either call an election or abandon the project.

The council does not have the power to call for a redefination of boundaries, said Mayor E. C. Counter Jr., afterwards. This alternative is up to the group which circulated the original annexation petition, he added.

Councilman John Connolly, William von Tagen and Farry Granzotto, and the mayor for an hour and a half answered questions from protesting residents, who have gotten up their own petition against annexation.

THE PROTESTORS are generally on Homestead, Karen, Jeffrey and El Caminito Roads, in the eastern portion of the area described by the boundaries.

Greatest complaint by the full councilroom audience was the seeming lack of warning that the informal discussion would be held.

Mayor Counter assured Edwin Schueren of 50 Norlan Drive, that there was nothing "under the table" about the procedure, and that it was called to inform persons doubtful about the anexation of the advantages of being in the city.

By a prior agreement, representatives of that group were informed of the time and place a week ago, he said.

ANDREW RYLANDER of 900 Jeffrey Lane, early in the evening suggested that if the annexation were "deferred" for one or two years, there would be no problem.

Leonard Barker of Jeffrey Lane, was promised that only if residents want private roads improved as city expense are the roads then liable to come under city specifications, and that otherwise they may continue as private roads.

The city requirements for right-of-way is a 40-foot width.

Fire Department requirements do not affect private roads, Jack Joyce of 70 El Caminito was told.

City Attorney John Nejedly said that studies are underway by the East Bay Municipal Utility District to determine the extent and cost of new water facilities in the Walnut Boulevard and other areas. All land in the city limits comes under EBMUD. The district tax rate is 20 cents per $100 assessed valuation, he said.

ZONING WILL continue the same upon annexation, unless residents desire a change, said Counter. This is the same as under county procedure.

A request for rezoning does not assure its success any more than in the county, he added.

Rudgear Jones of 930 Jeffrey Lane, asked that his group be polled, informally, to determine their wishes, and they stood up on request. They were the great majority in the audience.

Dr. Jay Corsaut of 60 Greenway Drive, said that his recent California Water Service bill of $18.88 would have amounted to $14.23 under EBMUD — not much of a difference he opined, considering the 20 cent assessment in the district.

Nejedly commented that the 95 cent city tax would amount to about $38 per year for a $4000 home.

Mary Drive Fears Flood Havoc Soon, Tells Supervisors

Residents of Mary Drive in Pleasant HHill wrote the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors this week asking flood control measures be taken in Grayson Creek.

Over 50 persons signed the letter stating the creek was in danger of overflowing with the first heavy rains of the season because it is choked with vegitation and rutted by caveins.

The clearing of the channels was termed an emergency measure by C. C. Rich, flood control district engineer. He said that clearing of the creeks is a "very expensive thing."

The board of supervisors allocated another $6600 to flood control after the letter was turned over to the board by Ray Taylor, third district supervisor.

The total allocated by the board now stands at $14,600.

Letters from Walnut Creek residents were also received by the supervisors. These letters stated that runoff waters that stand in pools in the creeks become a health hazard and should be considered a "serious problem."

Alamo District is Censured for Circulating Note

A recent County Planning Commission review of proposals for the "Round Hill" subdivision, to cover some 400 acres in Alamo, gave rise to sharp note by District Attorney Francis Collins to the Alamo School District, Tuesday.

Collins challenged the district's practice, which allowed the Alamo Improvement Association to send home with pupils notices urging residents to attend the commission hearing on subdivision plans.

Collins acted, he said, after he received a letter from Harlan Geldermann, a realtor who is supporting the subdivision, designed to create about 700 lots on the old Squire and Mott-Durham properties.

Collins in his letter said that the California Educational Code is "quite clear" in its ruling against distributing non-school notices through pupils.

District Superintendent John Waugh commented that it has been a practice to allow such notes, as a "service" to local groups. He added that the matter will be taken up by the board of directors Monday night.

He added that the controversial notice made no recommendation to support or oppose the subdivision.

Bids in 30-60 Days for First Phase, Master Plan

Bids will be called for in 30 to 60 days for first-phase street construction under the Walnut Creek's Little Master Plan, City Engineer Larry Milnes told members of the local Chamber of Commerce September 27.

Milnes said that actual construction will begin early next year, about six months later than original plans.

The $2 million series of street improvements needed to relieve the traffic jumble downtown, will begin with a new road running from just west of the intersection of Mt. Diablo Boulevard and the Sacramento Northern tracks, north to a juncture with Contra Costa Highway. An extension of Commercial Lane, downtown, and improvement of an intersection on the boulevard are also first in line.

MILNES TOLD the luncheon audience that a recent federal highway bill allows the State Highway Commission to speed up the schedule on construction of the Walnut Creek Bypass, a state project to provide a road around and to the west of Walnut Creek.

This will mean that the jobs may run concurrently, making available to the successful bidder for the city project, heavy equipment at a lower cost.

As a result, bids may be lower than originally anticipated, he added.

Main speaker was Mayor E. C. Counter Jr. who said that the city and the chamber are working closely together for the success of the Little Master Plan.

More than $800,000 worth of bonds have been sold, and they are still being purchased.

NEGOTIATIONS have been conducted towards acquiring the Sacramento - Northern roadbed, which was to run parallel to the first phase street, but there are many factos which are still to be considered, he said.

Top priority goes to the culverting of the Walnut Creek channel, the most expensive single job within the plan.

Chamber President Dean Spurgeon said that merchants should take full advantage of the procedure established for control of solicitations in the city.

Mother Warned About Children

A Concord woman who often left her four children at Lommels Creamery, 1682 Main Street, while she went bar-hopping, was warned to cease such conduct by Walnut Creek police Monday afternoon.

Dick Lommel, owner, told officers that the children had several times in the past been similarly "abandoned" in his place of business. The woman usually returned only after three or four hours.

She was told that the children will be turned over to Juvenile Hall if she doesn't mend her ways.

Woman Hits Tree

A Martinez woman was hospitalized after running her car into a tree north of Pleasant Hill Monday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The accident took place on Golf Links Road just north of Pleasant Hill. No other cars or persons were involved in the accident.

Injured was Mrs. Pearl Whaley. She was taken by ambulance to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek.

The office will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday to Friday.

Sheriff Harry A. Brown said Myhre would work out of the Martinez office of the department.

Myhre is a graduate of the University of California and a Navy Veteran of World War II and the Korean Conflict.

Chief John Jordan Resigns Post

County Aid Asked In Financing New Library Building

The county has been asked to help out in the construction of a proposed 10,000 square-foot library building on Camplin Avenue in Walnut Creek, just west of the city park.

Mrs. Thelma Boslar, as president of the Walnut Creek Library Association, Inc., wrote the supervisors that the city has reached an "impasse" in trying to figure out ways of financing the job.

IF THE CITY provides the land and the money for 6000 square feet of construction, will the county contribute the rest? she asked.

The supervisors referred the request to the Library Committee, composed of members Ivan Goyak of the First District, Richmond, and W. G. Buchanan of the Fourth District, Pittsburg.

County Administrator Desmond Teeter commented it has never been the policy of the board to provide money for library construction within a city, but only for staffing of the building, once built.

THE PRESENT library on East Street and Main is staffed by county librarians.

Mrs. Boslar's letter was as follows:

"After almost three years of attempting to promote necessary increased library facilities for the Walnut Creek area, we have reached an impasse.

"While Walnut Creek is a municipality, it seems most unfair to expect a city of 5000 population to provide a library building necessary to service 10,000 borrowers.

"RESIDENTS LIVING in unincorporated areas but still desiring increased library facilities feel it is important that the Board of Supervisors acknowledge their responsibility for the unincorporated area.

"The Walnut Creek Library Association has the following proposal to offer:

"If the city of Walnut Creek furnishes the site large enough to accomodate a 10,000 square-foot building and pledges to provide construction of 6000 square feet of the structure, will the county assume its rightful responsibility for the balance of the 10,000 square feet required to serve the entire area.

"W refer you to our survey previously submitted which indicates the large percentage of borrowers that are the responsibility of the county."

Local Stores Are Entered

Several minor burglaries were reported in Walnut Creek during the past week.

Resistors valued at $150 and condensors at $150 were taken from the Wes Clark TV Service at 1356 Locust Street, last Friday, it was reported. A door was forced and a portable typewriter was turned upside down by searching thieves.

An intruder took about $2 from Avalon Cleaners, 1286 South Main, Monday night.

About $18 was taken from a cash register in Kenna's Shoe Clinic, 1288 South Main, the same night.

Woman Treated at Local Hospital

Mrs. Ruth McGrath of 1377 Hermine, Walnut Creek, was taken to the Kaiser Hospital last Friday morning where she was treated for an alleged overdose of barbituates, according to police. Mrs. McGrath fainted while talking to her husband, John, who was going to work.

Chamber Names Nominating Unit For Officer Slate

A three man committee to nominate a slate of officers for the Pleasant Hill Chamber of Commerce was named by Chamber President, Dick Donovan, at the Chamber's regular meeting Monday at Monument Bowl.

Members of the nominating committee are C. D. McColm, chairman, of C. D. McColm and Son; Ted Winslow of Hopkins and Winslow Insurance and Bob Rapida of the Pleasant Hill Sun.

THE COMMITTEE will also select a board of directors for the coming year. New officers and the board of directors will be installed at the December meeting of the Pleasant Hill Chamber.

Pete Massolo and Tom Dietzel, Chamber delegates to the Pleasant Hill Civic Council, suggested to the 26 members present that the delegates should meet with chamber officers and the board of directors prior to meetings of the Civic Council to have basis for decisions reached at civic council meetings.

In other business, Hal Scott was directed to conduct a study on the cost of Christmas signs for Pleasant Hill. Scott said the cost of the signs would be $25 each plus installation. Scott will continue his study as directed by Donovan and report to the membership in November.

MIKE KIELY, superintendent of the Pleasant Hill Park, Recreation and Parkway District, informed members of a youth movement meeting to study youth service agencies in Pleasant Hill and how the citizens of the community may help these agencies in their efforts.

The meeting will be Wednesday night at the Fair Oaks School, 8 p.m. The general public is invited to attend.

DIETZEL, THE membership committee chairman, informed the chamber that there are now 86 paid up members in the organization. He said a total membership of 100 should be reached next year.

The next meeting of the chamber will be November 5 in the Banquet room of the Monument Bowl.

PH Youth Movement Meet Planned for Wednesday Eve

Representatives of civic, fraternal and service organizations will meet at Fair Oaks School Wednesday night at 8 to study how to best aid and support youth agencies in Pleasant Hill.

Speakers during the evening will be Mike Kiely, superintendent of the Pleasant Hill Park Recreation and Parkway District; Bela Clark, chief of the juvenile department of Contra Costa; John Davis, county probation officer; and others from various stations of youth work.

THE PLEASANT HILL Civic Council's Public Welfare and Protection committee spearheaded a drive early last month to study problems and undertook to make recommendations for supplementing the present schedule of school and recreation district facilities.

Also under study by the civic council committee are the affects of pinball machines and card rooms on teen-agers and younger children.

In charge of the study is Bob Kaemper with Doug Harding and Tom Dietzel assisting. Findings are to be presented at the October or November meetings of the civic council.

AN AGENDA FOR the Wednesday night meeting was drawn up at a committee meeting last Friday night at the Kaemper home. Kaemper pointed out that emphasis is not on juvenile delinquency but the establishment of more facalities for children ages eight through 18.

Principal A. C. Bloom of Pleasant Hill High School, told newsmen in a press conference last week that school facilities should be used to the utmost in a youth program. A representative of the school and other Pleasant Hill schools of the Mt. Diablo Unified School District will be present at the meeting.

The public is invited to attend and offer suggestions to the committee. The meeting will adjourn at 10, said Kaemper.

Purchase of Canning Co. Is Denied

Prevalent rumors that negotiations are nearly complete for the purchase by Montgomery Ward of the building and land of Walnut Creek Canning Company, 1834 Lacassie, were denied on both sides today.

Hamilton Davis, local company president, told The Sun that "you are way ahead of me. There has been no sale, and we have no announcement to make. I'm sorry I can't help you."

Philip Heib, a chief assistant in the Montgomery Ward real estate office said that there is no record of any such transaction in his office.

"There has been talk of a new retail outlet somewhere in the East Bay area, but it has been only talk," he said.

The rumors accompanied a visit by a Montgomery Ward real estate executive from Chicago with Lee Champion, head of the Oakland real estate office.

The pair this week visited Los Angeles together, and reportedly were traveling in the East Bay area yesterday.

It has been said that Montgomery Ward is interested in the local property for the location of a warehouse, to supply retail outlets.

Death Follows Fall from Wall

A fall from a four foot retaining wall Sunday took the life of Marshall Jackson Taylor, 62, of 1806 Newell Avenue.

Taylor, who was helping his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor, move into a home at 650 West Hawthorne Drive, struck head first on a concrete driveway, causing fatal injuries.

The accident occurred when Taylor went to the home of a neighbor, G. A. Nowak, to borrow a hose to wash out spilled paint in the garage. On the way back he came down an eight foot embankment and tripped over the wooden retaining wall.

His son called an ambulance, but Taylor died an hour later in a Walnut Creek hospital. An autopsy showed death was caused by a skull fracture.

Ask for Lesser Job; Mayor Cites His 'Fine Record'

By NORMAN COLBY

His resignation as chief of police, Walnut Creek, was submitted in a letter Monday by John Jordan to Mayor E. C. Counter Jr., and the city council.

Head of the local department since June, 1946, Jordan expressed the desire that he be given "reduced responsibilities and duties" within the organization. He stipulated no effective date.

The matter will go before the city council next Wednesday during a regular meeting.

MAYOR COUNTER indicated that the council will probably go along with Jordan's request for change of duty, and added that Jordan's new assignment will be decided upon after conferring with the new chief.

City Manager Ira Gunn said that advertisements for a new chief will be placed in the publication, Western Cities, and others. This means that the choice may fall upon someone outside the deparment.

Counter lauded Jordan's fine record as chief, and as a member of the department since 1939.

However, other sources have hinted that the letter comes only after some "pressure" exerted from official circles, where the chief's policies have been debated.

THE LETTER was as follows:

"Since January 7 1939, I have been employed by the Police Departments of the City of Walnut Creek.

"For the past 10 years I have served as chief of this growing department.

"I is now my desire to accept appointment to a different position in the department which will call for reduced responsibility and duties involving an expanded police force in a rapidly growing city.

"I AM NOT suggesting any specific date for this change since I am certain that you wish to conduct a thorough search for an incoming chief of police.

"Please be assured that I will cooperate in every respect with your choice for a replacement, and will accept such assignment as he makes.

"My term has been most pleasant and longer than most similar appointments. I wish to thank the officials under whom I have served for their cooperation, and feel sure that our amiable relationship will continue. Yours Very Truly, John Jordan.

Fowkes' Dutch Treasures Include 'Brinker' Skates

By FRANCES NEWMAN

Mary Elisabeth Fowkes, 6, of Glorietta School, is busy catching up on current first-grader's lingo since her recent return from a year in Holland with her family.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Fowkes and Mary Elisabeth's brother, Gordon, 17, and sister, Joan, 14, still unpacking boxes, are resettling in their home at 1 Park Lane Drive, Orinda.

Among the treasures they brought back are their own five pairs of shiny curled-toed ice skates — just like Hans Brinker's.

Holland's coldest winter since the 18th Century gave them plenty of chance to use their skates on the canals that web the cities. Dr. Fowkes even captured a medal in Leiden for a 12-mile skating marathon over the city's lakes and canals. On several occasions school was canceled for the day so the children could go skating.

LEARNING TO DO all one's lessons in Dutch is no easy trick, as Joan and Gordon quickly found out. But after the year's relentless exposure Joan now says she finds herself translating her American geometry back into Dutch to make it come out right!

The Fowkes family are the fourth from Orinda who have recently spent a year in Holland. Preceding them were the Ted Bradleys, the Seaver Ballards and the Fred Rusts, who occupied a house identical to the Fowkes' on the same street in Heemstede.

A fifth Orinda family, the Charles Nelsons, also arrived for a year's stay just in time for a visit with the Fowkeses before they left.

AT THE BEGINNING of his family's stay Gordon Fowkes also had a visit with another fellow-Orindan, Mike Laurenson, who was spending the summer with a German family as an American Field Service exchange student.

The same summer Gordon also had to be initiated into Dutch ways during a week at a boys' camp near the Zuider Zee.

Joan, too, spent a week at a Dutch girls' camp in the North Sea sand dunes before they all started their daily bike round trip to school.

DR. FOWKES, a member of the research staff of Shell Development in Emeryville, commuted to the Amsterdam laboratory of Royal Dutch Shell, where he was assigned in Shell's exchange of scientists program.

Among the family's most exciting adventures were their weekend and vacation trips around the Continent and the British Isles.

During these trips they ran the gamut from skiing in the Black Forest to watching Queen Elizabeth ride side-saddle in a London ceremony.

And they have 1000 colored slides to prove it!

THEY EVEN WEATHERED the discovery that one child's rash diagnosed in Rome as allergy, can turn into a family affair in Paris — as German measles!

Mrs. Fowkes now looks with renewed affection at her refrigerator and electric kitchen gadgets, but wouldn't trade her year of Dutch living for the lot.

Just now she's waiting, with mixed feelings, for a telephone. There's such a thing as carrying American conveniences too far — with two teen-agers in the house.

Christian Science Church Finishes Enlargement Job

Under way since last spring, a major enlargement program has been completed at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

The original building has been revamped, so that the seating capacity of the church is considerably increased. The facade of the building has been streamlined.

Just north of the original structure is the new Sunday School building, which, starting this Sunday, will have Sunday School time starting at 11 a.m., simultaneous with the church service.

The two buildings are connected by a patio.

Edward M. Hicks of Valley Drive, Orinda, was the architect. The builder is Hugo Miller Jr. of Oakland. Robert Babcock of Orinda is planning the landscaping.

Last Monday the reading room and free lending library resumed the regular hours of noon to 3 p.m. daily except Sundays and holidays.

The new Sunday School building includes a nursery, where parents may leave their very young children while attending church services.

Orindans Head Kuchel Effort

Max and Margaret Dunn of Orinda have been named Orinda co-chairmen of the committee to re-elect United States Senator Thomas H. Kuchel, according to an announcement from Betty Irwin, chairman of the Kuchel Campaign Committee for Contra Costa County.

The Dunns are recent arrivals in Orinda from Orange County, Senator Kuchel's home coutny. Max Dunn was active in the state Young Republicans and in community activities there. Mrs. Dunn was active in Junior Women, Red Cross, and volunteer organization.

In accepting the leadership of the Orinda Senator Kuchel committee, Max Dunn said:

"Kuchel has spent 20 of his 40 years in public service. He has sponsored all legislation to protect veterans, increases old age asistsance, increase postal employees' salaries, and is responsible for Federal legislation to study and curb smog.

"His prompt action for quick relief in the recent California flood disaster won him nationwide acclaim."

Scientists Prepare Technical Papers

Two Orinda scientists were instrumental in preparing technical papers presented recently at the 130th National Meeting of the American Chemical Society in Atlantic City for the Shell Development Company.

The paper "Pyrolysis of Aromatics and Related Heterocyclics" was written by J. J. Madison and R. M. Roberts of Berkeley.

Orinda Readies Its Program of Fire Prevention

"Every week is fire prevention week in Orinda—but national Fire Prevention Week next week helps us dramatize the importance of proper precautions," Orinda Fire Marshal William Koch said yesterday.

Acting on the theory that "for every child reached, we reach at least two adults," the Orinda Fire Department will concentrate its October 7 through 13 Fire Prevention Week activities on the youngsters in the five grammar schools of the Orinda School District, Koch stated.

All fifth graders at Orinda, Sleepy Hollow, Glorietta and Del Ray Schools have been given Junior Fire Marshal home report forms to take home, fill out and bring back to school next Monday. On these forms will be listed various items pertaining to home safety.

"WE'LL GO THROUGH the reports Monday and Tuesday, Koch said. "The class participating 100 per cent will win a beautiful banner. In case of a tie, each such class will receive a banner."

At the Pine Grove School for seventh and eighth graders, Koch and Lieut. Wes Jackson will show a film and will talk on fire prevention and home safety on three days next week, in Mrs. Mann's home economic classes. This presentation will be from 10 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. on each of the three days.

All fifth graders will receive Junior Fire Marshal badges, and the second graders will get little red "fire hats."

ALSO A PART OF the cooperative effort by the fire department and the school district, a film strip on fire prevention will be shown in all classes, according to Fire Chief H. E. Wyatt.

Five thousand pamphlets on fire prevention will be distributed to the schools, for the students to take home.

There will be two window displays on the subject—one, already in place at Warren Harrold's real estate office in Orinda Village, and the other in the Crossroads area.

KOCH POINTED OUT that the fire department supervises fire drills at the local schools all year.

"The children can vacate any one of the schools in 32 seconds," he said.

"Last spring we had a fire drill at the Orinda School on a day when the Orinda Mothers Club was meeting in the school auditorium. The youngsters got out promptly, but some of the mothers never did get out during the drill — they were busy running back for purses and other items.

Landscape Job Contracts Voted By School Board

Two contracts for landscaping and ground-improvement at Pine Grove School were awarded Monday night by the Orinda School Board, on bids totaling $27,411.

The contracts were awarded to Rudolph Watson of Redwood City, for landscaping, on his bid of $3734, and to Watkin and Sibbald of San Anselmo, for paving, grading and concrete work, on the firm's bid of $23,677.

Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff said yesterday that work on these projects is expected to be completed within three months.

OTHER BUSINESS at the board meeting at Pine Grove School included:

1. Reading of a letter from Harold DeFraga, assistant county superintendent of schools, informing the board that the County Board of Supervisors will conduct a hearing November 20, 10 a.m., on the proposed Briones Valley annexation to the Orinda School District.

2. Report by Sheaff that district enrollment was 2412 — Del Rey, 577; Sleepy Hollow, 521; Pine Grove, 447; Glorietta, 441; Orinda, 426.

3. Report by Frank Isola, supervisor of physical education and recreation for the district, on the summer recreation program, the summer camp program and the district's year-'round recreation program.

He also discussed plans for the future, including adults and teenagers. These future plans were referred to the Educational Advisory Committee for study and recommendation.

4. Decision not to name a delegate to the Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association. Reason given was that the school board, as the administrative body for a tax-supported district, is in a different category from that of neighborhood improvement associations and other groups represented on Civic Affairs.

Chamber to Ask Stricter Parking Law Enforcement

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce will write a letter to Sheriff Harry A. Brown requesting stricter enforcement of parking regulations in the Orinda business area.

At the chamber's luncheon meeting Tuesday in Casa Orinda, members Al Baer and John Ogden reported that parking conditions were getting out of hand due to violators. They stated that recently 16 cars were parked all day on a single block.

The chamber voted to write the sheriff, commending him on parking regulation enforcement in the past and urging resumption of strict enforcement both in Orinda Village and at Orinda Crossroads.

A letter of appreciation was also voted to be sent to Frank Durkee of the State Highway Commission for landscaping done by the State at the Orinda Interchange.

A systematic method of numbering new homes in the Orinda area is being striven for by the chamber in an attempt to avert numbering confusions in the subdivisions, many of which are being numbered separately and differently.

In order to facilitate mail delivery in the new homes, the chamber over a year ago assigned the Orinda Fire District to number the houses.

Concurrently, contractors and districts other than the Fire District were assigning other number systems to developments.

Secretary Clarence Betz has requested area maps from the Utah Construction Company to systematize the numbering.

Paul Vashell was appointed by President Merle Brown to arrange for a speaker to explain proposed constitutional amendments appearing on the November ballot.

The speaker will address the chamber at a noon meeting October 16 at Casa Orinda.

President Brown presided over Tuesday's meeting.

Miramonte Card Sales Hit 98%

Miramonte High School boasts approximately 98 per cent of student body cards sold. Out of an enrollment of 395, only eight cards were left by last Friday, according to Principal James Lewis.

A "booster" card sales contest aimed at winning adult financial support for the student treasury has been extended a week as the result of a sales tie between the freshmen and sophomors.

"Booster" cards, sold at $5, entitle the purchaser to the equivalent of $8 worth of admissions at all Miramonte home football and basketball games. "Booster" cards are sold only to adults.

The freshmen and sophomore classes have chosen candidates to reign over the football season and a football dance to be held at the close of the season.

Freshmen candidates are Vickie McCosker and Mike Cain; sophomore candidates, Judie Roberts and Gary Lucas. The class with the highest "booster" card sales record will have their candidates reign.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Suburban Senoritas Went South of The Border

THE FEELING OF FIESTA TIME IN MEXICO permeated the Oakwood home and grounds of the John Dorrs Sat. nite for the Orioles benefit for Diablo Therapy Center, "A Night in Old Mexico" . . . About 500 guests, many "senoritas" in high-styled colorful costumes, vivid shawls and stoles . . . Plenty of elbow room for everyone due to the vast expanse of the Dorrs' "Quail Valley" property, the length and spaciousness of the contemporary L-shaped house which the family built some six years ago, are just NOW enjoying after a 5-yr. residence in the East.

PAUSING IN THE LOGGIA where a fountain and pool flaunted ferns and flowers, the Bud Sages w/the Frank Tebbs . . . the Bill Sergeants arriving w/their Bear Creek neighbors, Dr. and Mrs. Mel Bolender . . . Mary Dorr, introducing her mother, Harper Wright intercepted by a bevy of new friends who were delighted w/her "Ninth Wave" book review at the Brazilian Room recently . . . Fran Dirickx, among the hostess members, seemingly everywhere, finding time for everyone, as was Dorothy Barden . . . Dolores Raskob and Rosita Boyan, Co-Chairmen, colorfully costumed scoring A-plus for atmosphere and authenticity, ditto Charlotte Chapple who did the dramatic decor.

Japanese lanterns and luau lights circling the gardenia-filled pool around which Mexican entertainment took place during the evening, stunning sequined dresses for the dancers, a Mariachi group serenading in song and for dancing . . . The Henry Soubielles, (Jan in white tiered lace) chatted w/the Jim Reads, Gene Snovers . . . Bertha and Al Markstein . . . The Gerry Grimes w/the Candido Jacuzzis . . . Lining up w/out a long wait for dinner (the committee had EVERYTHING under control for such a crowd!) were the Miles Sutliffes, Harold Ohleyers, the Madison Fowlers w/the Vern Neilsons, the Beau Guinthers, the homemade tortillas and beans good and HOT! Junior member Judy Parker at the coffee urns!

POOLSIDE DANCING for the Max Dunns, new here from Orange County . . . Ted and Pat Windall, she awhirl in white flower-sprigged print, yards and yards of lace ruching circling the dress from shoulder to hemline . . . Evie Parker, a fetching picture in a fringed ensemble, stoled and full-skirted over frivolous petticoats that were intended to be seen, she the creator of the colorful Pignattas, onlookers somewhat dismayed to see the paper animals, a donkey, a bird, torn apart when blindfolded guests took turns and a few spills to break w/a broom the containers full of prizes . . . Pocketing a handful of spilled-out candies, the Jim Chapples, George Eberharts, Jeff Schwarck w/Kitty, sombreroed.

Nan Davidson, a standout in silver and black, Ann Miller's purple stole . . . The H. V. Auers from Happy Valley . . . Chris Lang's Jamaican skirt of beige linen humorously appliqued w/story-book characters, she and Bill entertaining a bunch beforehand, w/Helen McLaverty and the Ralph Norbacks among the local guests . . . Bill and Kay Ahrens dispensing drinks w/Tom Connelly, Helia Case rating kudos on the Aztec murals, the Abe Dotys getting the BIG door prize, just a few impressions of a VERY impressive party!

No Afternoon Snoozes Around Here

THE VOICE OF THE TURTLE WAS HEARD via our column last week and it pleases us to report that the Chester Greens of Orchard Rd. have been re-united w/their long-lost leathery friend!

PUNCH AND PRATTLE prevailed the week long recently when Orinda Mothers Club held five teas, five days running, w/Mid Erickson and Betty Irwin, as pres. and vice-pres. on hand (on foot!) at each affair in the receiving line . . . The reason their smiles were still going strong by Friday? The secret's the sensible, but pretty shoes they wore! Flower arrangements from the green thumb of Helen Stark highlighted the Pine Grove Welcome held first on Monday at the Roger Stark residence . . . Handsome dahlia arrangements in the entry. Lush hydrangeas centering the tea table, Mr. McNicholas bravely joining the receiving line . . .

Room mothers hostessed wearing Mexican costumes and brilliant matching decor and still not too tired to say "'Buenas Tardes" were Mid and Betty in their low-heeled sensible shoes along w/Doris Fernsten, RM chairman and Janet Shirey, coordinator, Dotty Cary, tea chairman.

The charming shell-pink and white home of the Harold Ohleyers was viewed w/interest by Orinda School teagoers who had heard that this was a portion of a 70-yr. old farmhouse . . . In contrast, the contemporary cabana complete w/kitchen at the far end of the pool where Barbara Reid, Kay Brush, Evangeline Winkler were among the hostess mothers dispensing sandwiches.

Moraga Dateline

By EVA THUNE, DR 6-5593

It's that time of the year again, when the nights are cooler — although the days are still as hot — the leaves are falling and so are the nuts!

Ah! what beautifully mahogany stained hands! Believe me, it's a sign of distinction, I tell myself, as I desperately try to clean it off.

NOSTALGIC SHOW

Last week, a group of former Canyonites, most of us living elsewhere now, did our annual stint at the Flower Show, in behalf of the Camp Fire Girl organization.

It's a lot of fun, plus the pleasure of seeing the flowers, and they are always worth seeing. Also visiting the show were Mrs. Irene Sullivan of Camino Pablo and Mrs. Ellen Crawford of Canyon. One of the pictures on display was entitled, "Moraga Barn."

Must admit I didn't recognize it, but the countryside looked familiar.

At home visiting the family over last weekend was Private Robert Trinidad. Robert, who is at present stationed at Fort Ord, will be leaving with his troupe for Germany on October 25.

Brother Bill is serving with Ground Control, landing jet planes, at Fort Tyndall, Fla. Anita, his mother, tells me he is doing fine.

Happy Birthday to Donnie Franklin of Larch Avenue, who celebrated his 11th birthday Sunday, and Susan Rogers, also of Larch Avenue, who was 7 years old on September 28. She waited until Sunday to have a party for 26 children — not to mention 12 adults, and I can bet Mama Jo was mighty glad to see that afternoon end.

At the first yearly meeting of the Moraga Community Club September 28, election of officers was painless and speedy.

For president, we have Jack Winthers of Rheem Boulevard; vice-president, Dr. Eldon Nickels of Harold Drive; secretary, Mrs. Florence Huff of Larch Avenue; treasurer, Mrs. Sarah Glasky of Rheem Boulevard; and filling a vacancy on the Board of Directors, Dudley Davis of Rheem Boulevard was elected.

STICK TO PLANS

Business of the evening brought forth discussions of the Club's stand on the question of the proposed freeway, and it was decided to remain with the original decision to back the State proposed routing.

John Thune of Camino Pablo was asked to represent the Community Club at the hearing held at the Miramonte High School Wednesday.

Harry Rohrer, clerk of the School Board of Trustees, discussed headway made on the purchase of land for the new Donald L. Rheem School and displayed drawn plans for an attractive and extremely modern school, to be built to accommodate 600 students.

Invitation extended to Moraga by the Canyon Civic Club, to attend their Candidates Night, to be held at the Canyon School, 8 p.m. Wednesday, to meet and listen to 5 candidates for various offices.

Expected to be present are supervisor candidates General Wallace and Mel Nielsen, candidates for Assembly, Donald Doyle, R., and Russell Koch, D.

Democrat Dr. Bob Quinney, opposition to Baldwin for Congress, will not be present due to previous engagements. Anyone interested in attending will be more than welcome.

Just to keep things exciting in this neighborhood, four teen age boys from Walnut Creek had a close call in an automobile accident last Saturday afternoon at the end of Larch Avenue.

Witnesses bear out the story given by the boys of a passing car cutting in too close, forcing them onto the loose gravel at the road edge. Loss of the control of the car threw them across the road to shear a telephone pole, with extensive damage to the car and injuries to two of the boys.

MOTOR GAMES

Monday early evening, Roy Gesinger, driving on Canyon Road, proved the necessity for a STOP sign at the intersection of Moraga Boulevard and Canyon Road. He came out second-best with a car driven by a beginning driver when they played "You go first."

Glad to hear no injuries were sustained, although the understanding is that the cars were damaged.

The Welcome Mat is out for Mrs. Bernice Williams, who lives on Moraga Road. Bernice is Postmaster at the new post office, which officially opened for business last Saturday between the Moraga Casuals Shop and the Rheem Office Building in Rheem Center.

Good luck, Bernice.

Future Teachers Club Maps Its Plans

Acalanes High School students considering entering the teaching profession after completing college are eligible for membership in the high school's Future Teachers Club.

Club members are currently planning activities for the school year which will include the annual Don "Teachers' Day", in which the student body honors members of the faculty at a student-sponsored luncheon, and a series of guest speakers from the field of education to inform students of the potentials and requirements of educational service.

Members of the Future Teachers Club executive board are Pat Jackson, president; Judy Henderson, vice president; Sherill Lecari, treasurer, and Judy Myer, secretary.

According to faculty advisors Richard Mayes and Mrs. Jola Jones, the Don Future Teachers Club is sponsored by the school faculty "to encourage qualified young people to consider entering the teaching profession to help meet the shortage of instructors confronting America's schools."

The Acalanes club is affiliated with similar units chartered by the California Teachers Association.

Around Acalanes

By JERRY MORIARTY

Having completed most of the usual procedures which must take place at the beginning of a school year, Acalanes students are finally settling themselves into somewhat of a routine.

Believe it or not, this quarter is just about half over, which means mid-term tests will soon fill everyone's minds. These will include everything studied so far, such as the day the seniors in physiology padded around shoeless during class in order to study their feet, and the times studious juniors bent glass tubes in chemistry.

Falling into this routine has also given students some time for activities outside of their studies.

The sophomore class is presenting their dance tonight at 8:30 in the gym, which sports an "out of this world" theme, flying saucers. Prudy Myers, social secretary of the class has expressed the opinion, "It will definitely be something our class may be well proud of."

Our last rallies have been great successes; plenty of school spirit and everyone right behind the team, following the inspiring examples of the rally committe and our enthusiastic yell leaders.

School clubs have also entered the limelight here. The Future Teacher's Club, along with other activities, sold at the Oakland High game so that our effervescent rooters could be refreshed.

CSF has elected officers for this year, and has also commenced plans for future activities. Smed Ambler, president, states, "We hope to have an even bigger and more successful year than last."

Junior Statesmen have been vigorously debating the Suez Canal crisis and attempting to instill enthusiasm about their group in everyone at school. Anyone is welcome, and they hope to see many new faces this year.

The journalism class has put forth with their first effort of the year in a startling new and different six page Blueprint. The yearbook staff has started a lively campaign to sell the '56-'57 Aklan.

Booths, Beef to Light Church Fest

Santa Maria Catholic Church in Orinda will hold its annual festival from 1 to 10 p.m. Sunday at the church grounds.

A country store and various games will be set up on the site. Darts, baseball and panda booths are planned and dog-cart rides and a fish pond will be provided for children.

Walter Shepherd, 2 Honey Court, is general chairman, assisted by Marshall Moran, Joe Blaney, Mrs. W. C. Little, Harold Libbey, D. J. Spowart, Ken Swarz, George Carleton and Louis F. Comstock.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Navone will prepare the dinner. Guy Catterton and Mike Ferrone will serve as masters of ceremonies.

Tickets are available from Shepherd and Jack Hubner, 242 Hall Drive, and at the gate.

Campfire Girl Leader Course

At the home of Mrs. Tem Myers in Orinda a small coffee party was held last Friday for interested mothers of Bluebird-age children (7 to 10 years), with the hope of starting Bluebirds in Orinda.

Mrs. Eugene Petersen of Orinda spoke on the advantages of the Campfire Girls organization, the past history of Campfire and the organization of both Bluebirds and Campfire Girls.

Meetings of the mothers of second grade children were to be organized before the training course begins today.

Any mothers interested in training to be Campfire leaders of the girls are urged by Mrs. George Hall, training chairman, to attend the three meetings.

Two of the meetings will be at the Orinda Community Church Fellowship Hall today and next Friday. The third will be on October 23 at the Presbyterian Church in Walnut Creek.

Already, kids are looking forward to our impending holiday which comes on October 24. This is Teacher's Institute, and a chance for everyone to catch up on long overdue homework, or else a good supply of sleep, so as not to do so in class.

'Business Blitz' Hits Firms in Crusade Drive

With the "Business Blitz" under way this week, Contra Costa Volunteers are engaged in the first stages of what they hope will be a successful United Crusade Campaign to raise funds for youth, welfare, social and health agencies. A goal of $424,955 has been set for this county.

Five bay area counties are engaged in the Crusade this year and a goal of $11,017,000 has been set. This amount of money will finance the work of 256 causes in neeed of more money than has ever before been raised before in one campaign in this area.

Francis Watson, of Richmond, campaign chairman for the Contra Costa County Crusade, in opening the solicitation for funds, said "It is true that some people need more services than others, and that a good many Crusade-supported agencies necessarily restrict their services to persons with limited incomes or special handicapping conditions, but the services which the average person may find useful should be more widely known."

AMONG THE MOST familiar of these services, he pointed out, are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, YMCA, YWCA, and the boys' clubs. Dues are kept so low that no youngster is excluded for financial reasons. Crusade funds are needed to make up the difference between dues and actual costs of services.

"Whether or not we, as individuals, make use of Crusade services," Watson said, "they benefit all of us by keeping our community sound and healthy. It is up to all of us to support them generously through one big gift."

"The "Business Blitz," launched for the first time in West Contra Costa County last year, proved so successful that it is being used today in all five counties.

GATHERING AT A breakfast session, the scores and scores of volunteers were briefed Tuesday on a "Blitz" coverage of business houses throughout the county. They hope to be able to report at luncheons or dinners today complete coverage and signed pledge cards from every business house and businessman in the county.

In an appeal for everyone to give, Watson said: "It is our task to see that every person in the county has the opportunity to give to this campaign. We are stressing over and over again that we prefer not to take cash donations. We want the giver to sign a pledge card, so that he can make a thoughtful gift which is related to his personal budget for the year."

IT TAKES A LOT of cooperation to get a show as big as the United Crusade on the road and that's just what these area residents are doing while two youngsters representing Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts look on. Safety-Economy Run Scheduled For Students

A Safety-Economy Run for high school students in central Contra Cosa County was announced today in which drivers from four high schools will participate. The schools are Las Lomas, Acalanes, Pleasant Hill and San Ramon.

The announcement came from Contra Costa County Sheriff Harry A. Brown, who is coordinator of the event.

THE SAFETY-ECONOMY Run is a project which has been held in over 50 western communities and is patterned upon the annual Mobilgas Economy Run. The national economy run pattern has been altered for high school events to place the primary emphasis on safe driving by the students.

The Run will be open to a maximum of 105 student drivers from the four schools, who will pilot their cars over a carefully selected course and have the opportunity to demonstrate the lessons they have learned in their driver training classes.

The Safety-Economy Run will be organized by school, civic and club groups in the four communities, the Contra Costa County Sheriff's office and California Highway Patrol with the assistance of the General Petroleum Corporation and the California State Automobile Association.

HIGH SCHOOL students entering the Run must be at least 16 years old, possess a bona fide California driver's license, and drive either their own or their parents' automobile in the event. Mobilgas trophies will be awarded to students in each school who achieve the safest and most economical driving record for the 100-mile course.

Adult observers are assigned to each competing driver to grade him on his observance of all safety rules and sportsmanlike driving habits.

The course which the students will follow will be selected, logged and timed by the California State Automobile Association but will remain a secret until two weeks before the Run.

All cars entered in the Run will have to pass a safety inspection which includes a check of brakes, lights, steering mechanism, tires and other mechanical components. The cars must also pass inspection as stock models.

Foulds Protests Highway Division Purchaase Delays

The State Division of Highways' present policies on buying property for future highway construction was brought under strong protest last week by Howard Foulds of Alamo at a Redwood City meeting of the Dolwig Committee of the State Legislature.

Foulds, a Walnut Creek real estate man, claimed the Division of Highways is far too slow in buying the right-of-way property of owners affected by the proposed construction.

He accused the division of delay in spite of its practice of adopting a freeway route several years in advance, a practice with which he said he agreed.

The division is slow in making the purchsases, Foulds asserted, because the adoption of the route "freezes" property in the entire area of the adopted route.

The real estate man stated the Division of Highways stalls on buying property through agreements with county and city governments which refuse to grant building permits for such property.

The division should be forced to purchase or pay for an option "very soon" after the designation of freeways, he said.

Foulds added that there will be a formal hearing in Sacramento to examine Division of Highways purchasing and condemnation methods. He filed a number of supporting documents with the Dolwig Committee.

Diablo Valley H.S. Council Starts Activity

The first Diablo Valley Interschool Council was held Tuesday at Pacifica High School. This group consists of student body officers from each of eight high schools—four permanent members and four others chosen from each school.

Four meetings throughout the year will carry on discussions of mutual interest to all high school students in the area. These subjects are to be sent to the council from the students and their officers.

Topics discussed at Tuesday's meeting were:

Money-making projects, student court, responsibilities of lettermen, student body cards, smoking on campus and before-and-after-game activities.

In regard to the last-named, the students were most interested in beling allowed to try out after-game dances in order to provide an outlet for student energy until 11:30 p.m. or midnight.

Officers of DVIC were elected for the ensuing year. They are: President, Ken Stevens, student body president of Las Lomas; vice-president, Steve Bordi of Mt. Diablo; secretary, Sandy Tatum, study body secretary of Pleasant Hill; treasurer, Sid Sidwell of Mt. Diablo; and parliamentarian, Jack Weir, student body president of Pleasant Hill.

Kings, Black's Will Award 3 Space-Mates

Three complete sets of Space-Mates—Westinghouse washing and drying machines — plus a year's supply of detergent for each—will be won by lucky persons at Kings Lafayette, Kings Pleasant Hill and Black's Market in Orinda.

Awards will be made October 20—one award at each store. No purchases are necessary. There are no questions to be answered by those seeking to win the awards. All that's required in order to be eligible is for a person to register at one of the stores.

The Westinghouse Space-Mates save space by enabling the housewife to wash and dry clothes at the same time, in just 25 minutes.

Womens' Division Holds Meeting

The first fall luncheon meeting of the Womens' Division of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board was held at the Elks Club in Walnut Creek.

It was a "very successful and enthusiastic meeting of 25 members," President Mildred Applegate said.

Classes at East Contra Costa College in finance salesmanship and other educational phases of the business have attracted a large percentage of women members.

Future luncheons will be meetings held the fourth Wednesdays of each month at 11:45 a.m., in the Elks Club.

Commuters Will Elect

The annual meeting of the Contra Costa County Commuters Association will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Acalanes High School. Officers and directors will be elected.

Why the Oil Conservation Act will

KEEP GAS PRICES DOWN

● Why does Oil Conservation mean gasoline price protection for motorists?

● Why will Proposition 4, the Oil Conservation Act, help keep gas prices down?

—Because conservation of California's irreplaceable oil resources means stopping waste in the production of oil. It means getting every last drop of oil from the ground that it is possible to get by modern, scientific recovery methods.

—Because Proposition 4—by providing urgently needed Oil Conservation legislation—will double the production of oil from California fields.

—Because a plentiful supply of low-cost California oil is the best possible guarantee against drastic increases in the service-station price of gas.

IF YOU DRIVE A CAR, you are vitally concerned over the price of gasoline.

There are three pressures operating today in the direction of increased prices of gasoline. They are:

1. Greater expenditures by both the Federal and State governments for improved highways and freeways—financed by higher taxes on every gallon of gas you buy.

2. The Suez Canal crisis and Middle East unrest—foreshadowing demands on American oil to fill Western European needs.

3. The constantly increasing horsepower of automobile motors—requiring gasoline with higher and higher octane content.

The great, pocket-book importance of Proposition 4 to motorists is that it will provide an important counter-pressure to these rising price trends—by greatly increasing the supply of low-cost California crude oil.

TODAY, CALIFORNIA IS AN "OIL DEFICIT" STATE—we use more oil and gasoline than we produce.

Yet, today, only half the oil that can be recovered is being recovered—the other half remains in the ground, tragically wasted, for want of proper Oil Conservation procedures.

Proposition 4 provides the legal framework to make it possible to recover that presently wasted half of our producible oil resources. It will replace scarcity with plenty—adding a whopping 4 billion barrels to our known, recoverable oil reserves.

Best of all, the additional oil that will be produced from existing fields will be relatively inexpensive oil—because huge discovery, drilling and investment costs are not needed to produce it.

By providing a new, important source of low-cost California crude oil, Proposition 4 will help keep gasoline prices down!

● THESE COMPANIES SERVE THE MOTORIST: The major, integrated oil companies (with only one exception) — the companies that not only produce oil, but refine it and distribute it to the public—support Proposition 4. Their interest is in volume production and distribution of gasoline at reasonable prices.

Have you read "The Case of California's Disappearing Oil"? Ask for it at your service station or news stand.

● THESE COMPANIES DO NOT SERVE THE MOTORIST: On the other hand, the interest of the large-scale, multi-million dollar "independents" who are opposed to Proposition 4 is in higher prices. They are simply producers of crude oil and do not serve the motoring public. They are currently agitating for higher prices for crude oil.

● THE MOTORIST'S INTEREST, THE PUBLIC INTEREST, YOUR INTEREST — CLEARLY IS IN BOOSTING SUPPLIES OF LOW-COST CALIFORNIA OIL, AND KEEPING GASOLINE PRICES DOWN, BY ENACTMENT OF PROPOSITION 4.

Vote YES on Proposition 4

"If ever a measure for public decision by ballot could be called a motorists' measure, it is Proposition 4."--The Kingsburg Recorder.

Drivers Need OK at Acalanes

Acalanes students who drive cars regularly to and from school are required to sign up with the Dean's office for "campus use of car permits."

Permits require parent consent and rigid conformity with safe driving practices. Within the next week, all cars, both student and faculty, used on the Don campus will be subjected to safety tests. Tests will be conducted by the school industrial arts program, auto shop students and the driver training instructor.

Cars that fail to pass safety requirements must repair defects cited and return the car for a second inspection within a given period. Acalanes decals will be placed on cars deemed "safe." In the future, only cars with safety decals will be allowed on the campus.

New Red Cross Class Schedule To Be Arranged

To select a more convenient schedule for an American Red Cross standard first aid course in Orinda, a meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Orinda School.

In announcing the meeting, Mrs. J. E. Shank, public information officer for the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the Red Cross, explained that originally the five-week, twice-a-week course was scheduled to start last Monday night at Orinda School, with sessions slated for Monday and Wednesday nights.

However, this proved inconvenient for a number of people, she said.

Orinda College Girl Is Colonel Candidate

Jean Galbraith of Orinda has been named a candidate for Little Colonel of the Air Force ROTC detachment on the Willamette University campus in Salem, Ore.

Three finalists of the six candidates will be selected by the ROTC students next week, one of whom will be given the title of Little Colonel at the Military Ball on October 13.

A cophomore language major, Miss Galbraith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Galbraith, 31 Charles Hill Circle.

B-R-B Burgers Whet Appetites

Orinda appetites are currently being whetted by the "Broiled Burgers," hot dogs, shoestrings, homemade hot apple pie and the other snacks served at "Orinda's Own Snack-stop," the newly-opened B-R-B Broiled Burgers, 224 Brookwood Road, in Bing's Shaver Shop Building.

Featuring a full ¼ pound of selected chuck beef in every broiled burger, the shop was opened by three Orinda businessmen . . . Bing Crosby of Bing's Shaver Shop and Matt Rhoads and Bill Hillman of the Village Barber Shop.

As snack-shops are slightly out of their lines, the partners acquired the services of Pearl Goss, an experienced griddle cook and char-broiler, as manager.

As spotless chrome lines both counters and the kitchen, B-R-B Broiled Burger invites inspection at any time.

When customers are finished inspecting, they can expect service over the shop's Dutch window 'till midnight.

Gene Bried Opens New Carpet Establishment

The opening of a new Gene Bried Carpet Store at 2106 Main Street, in Walnut Creek, is welcome news to residents of the East Bay, many of whom are already familiar with the outstanding service rendered by this company for many years.

Starting 10 years ago on a very modest scale, Gene Bried, Inc. has grown to become one of the largest rug and carpet concerns in Northern California. "And," says Bried, "we expect our company to become the largest in this area."

INTRIGUED BY THE rapid growth and success of this company, we set out to get directly from Gene Bried a firsthand version of his carpet "success story."

"My business has grown," said Gene, "because I give people what they want and have a right to expect. Carpets are what we call a 'big ticket' item. They represent a major investment and the buyer wants to feel that he is getting top quality merchandise at the right price and backed up by the dependability of a reliable concern.

"It has always been our policy to handle only fine quality merchandise. Our huge stock of rugs and wall-to-wall carpets includes almost unlimited selections from famous mills such as Karastan, Masland, Bigelow, Firth, Callaway and Gulistan. We handle these and many other well-known lines in a wonderful selection of exciting new styles and decorator colors.

"OUR SALES PEOPLE are all experienced carpet men qualified to make recommendations and help our customers in the selection of carpets best suited to their needs. We also have on our staff a graduate decorator whose services are available without charge to all customers."

Gene Bried is particularly proud of his new rug, carpet and furniture cleaning plant in Millbrae. Cleaning service has long been a feature of Gene Bried Inc., but this new plant truly represents the ultimate in carpet and furniture cleaning. It was installed at a cost of over $100,000 and, according to Gene, is the finest and most efficient plant of its kind in the West.

"We can proudly tell the people of Northern California," added Bried, "that we provide everything in rugs and carpets under one roof."

The new Gene Bried Walnut Creek store is under the management of Ernie Musgrave, a factory trained carpet specialist who has been with Gene Bried for many years.

Newspaper Week-Sun Improvement!

During this National Newspaper Week, as well as every week throughout the year, we on The Sun cope with the problem of how to improve our paper. This week and every week present a challenge, in the form of such questions as these:

How can we offer you a better newspaper? How can we be of greater service to you and the community? How can we do a better job?

We are grateful for the many kind words and the many compliments which readers have addressed to the paper. Also, we are appreciative of the criticisms which have been leveled at The Sun.

No matter how happy we may be about your praise, and no matter how good we may feel about the content and appearance of the paper, we are never satisfied with our product and our service.

We are constantly seeking to improve The Sun, and to get ideas and suggestions from you.

As an example, for the past several weeks, as an experiment, we have been offering in each issue an extra page or two of major news from neighboring communities.

The various communities in this area have many similar problems. People in one community have friends in other communities. In the past we have been criticized for not offering sufficient news of neighboring communities.

Other examples: We are expanding our sports department coverage, our social news, our editorial page features, our photo coverage.

We want your reaction to our efforts. Please fill out the blank for that purpose in the front section of this issue, and send it to us.

We are eager to hear from you, and to learn what you like and don't like about The Sun. With your continued cooperation, we hope to keep producing an ever-improving newspaper.

What They Say . .

Crusade Aids Many Causes

An outstretched, empty hand is an object of compassion that does not often go unheeded in the local area.

There are many organizations and agencies, all worthwhile and worthy of help, which annually ask the people in our communities for financial aid.

But as human beings, with human frailties and prejudices, most of us in the past were becoming slightly irate at being asked for funds from these various groups at every turn. We developed pet charities, and, while sympathizing with the others, left them in the care of other donors.

IN AN ATTEMPT at equality in contributions, and to allow donors to make just one contribution to aid many charities, the United Bay Area Crusade was organized.

Workers and solicitors are once again getting ready for the Crusade, which begins soon. Its success depends on the willingness of residents to extend an open hand to all groups seeking aid under the program, rather than just their "pets," with one swooping gesture.

Are the local folk receptive to this plan? Do they feel that this simplified, all-inclusive "Crusade" is the most expedient means of satisfying the needs of the varied groups involved?

This is what your Roving Reported inquired of his neighbors. Here's what he learned:

The Crusade is "very worthwhile," replied Walter Sansbach, 972 Lafayette Boulevard, Lafayette. He added the sentiments of his neighbors as he continued, "All of us feel we would rather contribute once to worthwhile causes than several times."

Mrs. Olof H. Dahlstrand, 120 Brookside Road, Orinda, however, felt that she would rather contribute to causes individually, as "I contribute to many charities through the Crusade that I wouldn't ordinarily."

Mrs. Dahlstrand added that the question of contribution is still confused as "many causes conduct drives apart from the Crusade."

There was no doubt in the mind of Mrs. Ralston W. May, 457 Florence Drive, Lafayette, as to the value of the Crusade. She's working very hard in preparing for it, she stated, as an assistant solicitation chairman in Lafayette.

She felt that the community is strongly behind the drive, as "we're having no trouble getting workers for the cause." The worth of the Crusade was very clear to Mrs. May, who said it "solves the problems of conducting other drives during the year."

"YES, THE CRUSADE is fulfilling its function," replied Mrs. Joe McClary, 19 Los Amigos, Orinda. "As far as consolidating contributions are concerned, the Crusade does a very fine job," she opined.

"Of, course, but its even simpler for me because by husband takes care of it at work," replied Mrs. Jack Paulson of 12 Amigo Lane, Walnut Creek.

"Its a fine thing, but there are other causes not under the crusade. In February, I think it was, our union in Richmond, gave to the Rehabilitation Center for Disabled Veterans," commented Albert Coulon of 772 Duke Circle, Pleasant Hill.

The coulons have lived in the county for 30 years, but moved to Pleasant Hill only recently.

Although she remembers giving to another worthy cause, the Cancer Drive, Mrs. Paul Summa, Jr., of 66 Kathryn Drive, Pleasant Hill, stated she is all for the United Crusade.

"IT SAVES A lot of trouble for solicitors and the givers," she said.

"My husband is solicited through his work, which makes it easy for us to give, said Mrs. Pen Whitehead of 2694 Kinney Drive, Walnut Creek.

"Its for a good cause. In Honolulu three years ago, we solicited for the Honolulu Community Chest," she added.

Vehicles Over Bridge

A total of 451,177,610 vehicles had passed over the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge as of June 30, 1956.

Community Leaders Give Concepts of Development

Realistic appraisals of planning development were given at the Acalanes auditorium recently at a public program presented by the Association for the Progress and Improvement of Contra Costa County.

Dr. James Tormey, San Mateo county superintendent of schools, in relating the financial plight resulting from San Mateo's transition from agriculture into a "bedroom" area, said that homes, by themselves, prove to be an economic debit to the community.

"As more and more homes are built," he stated, "the result is half an education for children and increasing taxes for parents. The old economic concept of high population giving better services and lower taxes is entirely false.

"A home by itself is not an economic asset, for homes are consuming units, not producing units. People must realize that a home is an economic debit that must be offset somehow, in order to prevent public poverty," he asserted.

"Follow the advice given San Mateo County by the Urban Land Institute — develop a balanced economy, based upon equitable relationship between residential, industrial and commercial development," Dr. Tormey advised.

"The Builder and the Community" was the topic discussed by the second speaker, Andres Oddstad, East Bay residential developer.

He said, "The builder builds as the community dictates, although he realizes that planted growth must be realistically prepared; in other words, communities cannot be built entirely for wealthy $50,000 a year executives.

"In considering planning and zoning problems, citizen groups and building groups should adopt a cooperative attitude, realizing that industrial lands must be reserved as well as residential lands."

Poet to Address Public at College

The public is invited to hear Jarrell Randall, poet, critic and novelist, who will speak at St. Mary's College next Thursday afternoon. He will discuss American poetry at 3 p.m. Admission is free.

The lecture, first in an autumn series under the sponsorship of the faculty and administration of St. Mary's, will be held in De La Salle lounge on the campus.

Randall, poetry consultant for the Library of Congress, is an assistant professor of English at Women's College, University of North Carolina.

Navy Recruit Station Moves

Chief Petty Officer James Buxton announced today that the U.S. Navy recruiting office in Concord has been moved to the Veterans Memorial Building, Colfax and Willow Pass.

It was formerly at the Concord Police Station. Hours at the new station are 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday to Friday, and 6 p.m. to 8, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

The station serves Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Orinda, Lafayette, Danville and surrounding areas.

Welfare Council Backs New Group

A new organization dedicated to community improvement has been established, according to Henley Worthington of Concord, president of the Community Welfare Council.

The Welfare Council will serve as a coordinating and planning group for health, welfare and recreational services in Central Contra Costa County.

The Welfare Council proposes to bring together individuals and organizations to coordinate effort and reduce duplications in the solution of community-wide problems. Joint planning and action of the Council's members will determine the greatest community needs, as well as, the progress of services which are meeting these needs.

The work of the Council will be accomplished in sections according to fields of community service: Family and Child Welfare, Health, and Group Work and Recreation.

Individuals interested in community improvement or representatives of organizations, civic groups, or government and voluntary welfare agencies may secure membership information at the Council offices, 2363 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Walnut Creek.

The officers of the Community Welfare Council of Central Contra Costa County are Mr. Worthington, president; Mrs. Joseph Wilson III of Lafayette, first vice-president; William Hogan of Concord, second vice-president; A. F. Bray Jr. of Martinez, treasurer; and Miss Jillian Wurzel of Walnut Creek, secretary.

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

A folder full of notes

I have a file folder labeled, "Column" and it is now stuffed with scraps of paper, clippings from magazines and newspapers, and assorted junk. So . . . today let's clean up the file folder.

Here's a note that merely reads, "Proposition 4?"

Are you as confused as I? Propaganda from both sides says gas prices will be increased either way. I talked to a law professor at Cal who has been studying the measure. He doesn't know either. Anyway, we're studying the pros and cons and will come up with a recommendation before the election.

The Sun will print recommendations on the various state propositions as prepared by the League of Women Voters, State Chamber of Commerce, Commonwealth Club, etc. in a future issue. We'll also publish a lot more information on the formation of the proposed Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District.

Rumors on politicos

Here's a note on 1958 politics: Ivan Goyak, supervisor from district 1, may run for sheriff next election. And at least three attorneys are considering the race for district attorney, opposing Francis Collins, if he is a candidate again. Pleasant Hill seems to be bristling with potential candidates against Supervisor Ray Taylor in '58.

Had a call from a reader who suggests that school bus safety is more than the parents watching kids at the bus stop. He declares that some of our school buses are traveling too fast.

Here's a post card from our good friend, Brother Bede Edward, director of the Placement Bureau at St. Mary's College:

"St. Mary's boys are now available for all kinds of work. Competent babysitters, gardeners, handymen."

We have used the boys for babysitters and for other work and they have been terrific. Call DRake 6-4411.

Do you like smog?

Perhaps the most important news item of the week that concerns YOU is the statement by Benjamin Linsky, the new Bay Area smog control boss. This week the six-county Bay Area Pollution Control District, which includes Contra Costa County, came into official existence.

Linsky declared that all open fires, including the little ones in your backyard, as well as the major blazes in eight city dumps, will be banned in about 90 days.

He indicated that this can be done by public relations and education. "Most people want clean air and will do what is needed to keep it that way."

To this, I think, we all agree. We certainly don't want Southern California smog. We have ideal weather and climate here — and want to keep it that way. But smog is seeping in more and more. My reaction: Let's cooperate 100 per cent.

Incorporation talk is always with us, except in incorporated Walnut Creek. Here's a newspaper clip reporting that Saratoga in Santa Clara County has just voted to incorporate. The new city covers 12 square miles between Los Gatos and Santa Clara and has 9,000 population.

I still have a file full of notes but I had better say: That is all.

Bus System for Acalanes Proves Economical--Report

"Operation of school buses for the Orinda, Lafayette, Moraga Elementary and Acalanes High School Districts is continuing to prove an economy over private contract hauling," a spokesman for the combined districts' transportation committee told trustees this week.

Committee members disclosed that a study of 14 districts with comparable transportation indicates that the combined Acalanes system ranks second from the lowest in costs per pupil per year for 1954-55.

The Acalanes combined system's cost per pupil per year for 1954-55 was $28.22.

The range of the 14 comparable districts ran from $25.87 to $66.31 per pupil for that year. The Acalanes system's $27.46 cost for 1955-56 was lower than costs for 1954-55. Comparison figures for 1955-56 with other districts are not yet available.

THIS YEAR THE combined school bus system is hauling 5056 students per day to and from school.

The breakdown by participating districts shows Acalanes High School District, 1421; Lafayette Elementary, 2028; Orinda-Moraga Elementary Districts, 1607.

A year ago the system hauled 4053 students per day. In 1954-55, 3720 students rode. When buses were first put into operation by the combined district in 1950-51, student hauls were 1940 students per day.

"The increase in student riders from 1940 in 1950, to 5056 today indicates in some measure the accelerated growth taking place in our schools," the transportation committee observed.

The committee stated that the system was dedicated to providing "the best service for the least cost, in the safest way possible."

A BREAKDOWN OF the percentages of student enrollments within each district riding the system during 1955-56 indicates that 49 per cent of the Acalanes District enrollment, 52 per cent of the Lafayette Elementary enrollment, 57 per cent of the Moraga and Orinda Elementary enrollments used school buses.

Total operating costs for 1955-56 were $111,295.

The combined system has twenty-eight buses and employs thirty-two persons in the capacity of drivers, maintenance personnel and supervisors.

School trustees on the combined district's transportation committee are William Freeman, Acalanes High School District; John Jacques, Lafayette Elementary; F. B. Glasky, Moraga Elementary; and Carl Meurk, Orinda Elementary.

Superintendents from the districts concerned, Ross Reagan, Acalanes District Business Manager, and Rowland Coad, Transportation Supervisor, sit in an advisory capacity with the transportation committee.

The system is supervised through the Acalanes High School District, Neil M. Parsons, superintendent.

School children visit "Telezonia". Lots of grade schools are now showing pupils a color motion picture about a fabulous land of puppets. It's called "Adventure in Telezonia". The movie's part of a special kit. It was worked out by telephone people at the request of teachers and with their help. It's loaned to schools to show children how to use the phone correctly. This is important. For good telephone service depends a lot on how you and others use your phones. So the good telephone habits "Telezonia" is teaching children help make service better for everyone. The men and women of Pacific Telephone work to make your telephone more useful every day.

Vallecito Moms, Pups to Parade in 'Pandemonium'

Preparations are nearing completion for the "Poodle Pandemonium," Vallecito School Fall Fashion Show, to be held Saturday, October 13, according to Mrs. W. F. Funk, general chairman.

Five Lafayette poodle dogs are making their debut in the fashion show. Like the models, their coiffures are being newly styled, cut and brushed, say their owners, Mrs. Harold Durney, Mrs. Frank Malley, and Mrs. Van Peabody.

Local Girl Will Wed

At a traditional "candlepassing" ceremony of the Kappa Kappa sorority at the University of Arizona, Miss Mary Lou Prable of Wichita, Kansas, announced her engagement to John Yaryan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Yaryan, 2 Charles Hill Road, Orinda.

Pointing to a November 20 wedding date at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Tucson, Arizona, the couple met as students at the university.

The prospective bridegroom, a senior at the school majoring in Agricultural Science, is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

Having attending prep schools in Michigan and Tucson, the young student is also a member of the honorary Arnold Air Society and the Seabbard and Blade, the honorary ROTC society.

Following the November 20 rites, at which John's sisters Ruby and Eugenie will attend the bride as bridesmaids, the local student will attend school until his graduation in February.

Upon graduation, he will receive a commission and enter the U.S. Air Force where, according to his father, he intends to make his career.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Prabel of Wichita.

GOP to Hold Candidates' Dinner Party on Oct. 16

October 16 has been circled on the calendar for leading Republicans throughout Contra Costa County as the date for a gala Republican candidates' dinner party and pre-election rally at Diablo Country Club.

Co-chairmen for the party, William Anderson of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Donald Krotz of Orinda, announced that the $25-a-plate dinner will be highlighted by brief speeches and by entertainment before and during the dinner hour, to be followed by dancing. The party will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Representative John F. Baldwin, incumbent congressman for California's 6th District, Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle and Jack Pedder, candidate for state senator, will speak.

OTHER BRIEF talks will be given by Dave Calfee, Richmond attorney and co-chairman in Contra Costa County with Mrs. James E. (Betty) Irvin for United States Senator Thomas H. Kuchel, and by William Brinton of San Francisco, Northern California chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee.

Vice-chairmen of the event are Mrs. Frank Young of Walnut Creek and Hal Bates of Lafayette.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. Theodore Counter, Walnut Creek, decorations; Mrs. Matthew Connelly, Walnut Creek, entertainment; John Osmundsen, Walnut Creek, arrangements; Mrs. Mel Marshall, Pittsburg, hospitality; Larry Corbett, Walnut Creek, demonstrations, and Mrs. Lindsey Spight, Orinda, programs.

Named as ticket chairmen for their communities are Harmon Howard, Walnut Creek, YE 5-5116; Mrs. Stanley Friden, Diablo and Danville, VE 7-2197; Mrs. Eugene Scofield, assisted by Mrs. William Freeman, Lafayette, CL 4-2101, and Mrs. Clay Sorrick, Orinda, CL 4-2121, and Mr. and Mrs. John Gompertz, Orinda CL 4-2803.

Tables will be set for 560 people, but the intimacy of a smaller party will be retained by having each table of eight assigned to a sponsor, Mrs. Krotz said.

Music for dancing will be by Henry Gallagher's Orchestra.

'Ike and Dick' Bumper Strips Being Given

"Ike and Dick Bumper Strip Weekend" is the name designated for the weekend of today and tomorrow, Mrs. Thomas Barrows of Orinda, vice-chairman of the Eisenhower-Nixon Committee for Contra Costa County, announces.

A call for volunteers who will be able to join teams of three and begin distributing the bumper strips, starting today, has been issued by the committee. Volunteers are being sought to work either today or tomorrow and may call CL 4-2097.

The general format of the campaign calls for the formation of teams of three individuals, one to obtain the consent of the automobile driver, one to place an "Ike and Dick" strip on the front bumper and one to place a strip on the rear bumper.

Mrs. Barrows emphasizes that all volunteer workers are cautioned that under no circumstances are the strips to be attached to automobiles without the owners' consent.

Not only the regular Republican organization, but all other allied groups seeking re-election of President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Vice-President Richard M. Nixon, have been asked to join in the drive, which is being coordinated by the County Republican Central Committee.

"WE HAVE RECEIVED a bulletin from Joseph Martin Jr., Northern California chairman of the Eisenhower-Nixon campaign, informing us that he considers 'Ike and Dick' extremely important," Mrs. Barrows says.

"By the end of next week, we hope to have 'Ike and Dick' strips on the bumpers of every citizen's car in this county who intends to vote for the reelection of our great President and vice-president."

Mrs. Raymond Tolles and Mrs. E. H. Haase of Lafayette, Mrs. Ernest Fernsten and Mrs. James Hill of Orinda, Bill Davisson of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Arthur King of Pleasant Hill are in charge of the project in their areas.

GOP Opens New Headquarters

Republican campaign headquarters for Lafayette and Orinda has been opened at the Happy Acre Realty Company office, 995 Hough Avenue, Lafayette.

Under the direction of Mrs. Robert Gailbraith of Orinda, the headquarters is staffed by volunteer women. Hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. Phone number is AT 4-4096.

CAMPAIGN TALK occupies Dr. H. R. "Bob" Quinney (left), Democratic candidate for Congress from the 6th District, and his two campaign co-chairmen in the Lafayette area, William D. McKee and Sharonn Gittelsohn. Quinney and Russell Koch Democratic candidate for 10th District assemblyman, will be at a gathering of the Lafayette Democratic Club Thursday evening at the Bill Borowiak home on Springhill Road, Lafayette.

Quinney, Koch Will Be Guests Thursday Night

Dr. H. R. Quinney, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth District, and Russell Koch, Democratic candidate for the Assembly from the 10th Assembly District, will be guests of the Lafayette Democratic Club at their next meeting Thursday at the home of Bill and Barbara Borowiak on Springhill Road, Lafayette.

According to James Benney, president, the gathering will begin at 8:15 with a business meeting, followed by a coffee period during which Quinney and Koch will give informal chats and answer questions concerning their campaigns.

For the remainder of the evening there will be a workshop invloving paperwork and planning for Dollars for Democrats Day, which has been designated nationwide as Tuesday, October 16—the day on which Democratic precinct workers will go door to door asking, as Mrs. Franklin has said, "many to give a little." Democrats wishing to sign up for this project may call Mrs. Glenna Zach, AT 3-8015.

Dr. Quinney has announced appointment of two Lafayette Club members as co-chairmen of his campaign in the Lafayette area: Sharonn Gittelsohn, vice-president and membership chairman of the club, and William D. McKee, an attorney and administrative secretary of the Democratic Central Committee of Contra Costa County.

At the Thursday meeting plans will be discussed for a dinner and song fest, to be co-sponsored by the Lafayette Democratic Club and the Democratic Women of Orinda, on Saturday, October 27, in Orinda.

Club leaders state that anyone wishing information about activities of the Lafayette Democratic Club may call board members Neil Falconer, AT 3-6229, or Jean Hambleton, YE 5-0642.

Vehicles Entering California

A total of 579,354 vehicles entered California during July, 1956, an increase of 27,937 over the vehicles that entered during July, 1955.

Women Studies To Be Discussed

Dr. Lynn T. White Jr., president of Mills College and a nationally known educator and author, will discuss women's education at the first program of the Diablo Tuesday Morning Forum fall series next Tuesday at the Diablo Country Club.

Program for the morning will include coffee served from 10 to 10:30, after which Mrs. Frederick F. Thomas will introduce the guest speaker. Dr. White will speak on "The Changing Context of Women's Education."

President of Mills since 1943, Dr. White is a graduate of Stanford University, the Union Theological Seminary and Harvard University, where he took his doctorate in Philosophy.

His writings have dealt widely with the Medieval and Renaissance periods.

Doyle Talks Textbooks At County Board Meet

How do citizen members, who since July have replaced professional educators, perform as a County Board of Education?

An answer is to be found in the Contra Costa County Board's agendas. Some of public education's most pressing current problems have been discussed by the board, and others are scheduled to come up in the months ahead, say members.

Indicative of serious consideration the board gives school matters is the meeting of September 19.

MRS. EVELYN Jegi, assistant county superintendent in charge of supervision and curriculum, reported on the procedures for adopting instructional materials and supplementary textbooks, illustrated by copies of the county course of study and sample materials supplied the seven board members.

Assemblyman Donald Doyle of Lafayette, chairman of the Assembly Education Committee, described the work of his committee as "not an investigation but a study" of California's selection of textbooks to determine if improvements are needed.

He characterized the textbook situation as only one of several major problems in California and mentioned teacher recruitment school financing as others.

Doyle stated it is not the intent to have the state furnish all textbooks but to allow local schools some freedom of choice by continuing the supplementary textbook system.

REPRESENTING organizations of parents of severely mentally retarded children, three spokesmen introduced the subject of educating such children. Private classes are operated by the Guidance for RetardedChildren of Contra Costa County, Inc., in the West Contra Vosta area and by a similar council in the San Ramon Valley area.

John E. Copeland represented the East Bay Association for Retarded Children, Lawrence E. Coleman of Richmond, the West Contra Costa group, and John F. Clopton, the East Contra Costa group.

They contended that although many severely retarded children can be helped by education, few public schools — only Mt. Diablo Unified in Contra Costa — take advantage of permissive legislation by establishing classes for them, chiefly because of high per capita costs.

COUNTY Superintendent B. O. Wilson estimated there are approximately 100 such children in the area, most of whom are not attending public schools.

The Mt. Diablo class is small, with a waiting list for entry.

Nielsen Opens Hq in Lafayette

Opening of a central campaign headquarters in Lafayette for Mel Nielsen, candidate for Contra Costa County Supervisors from District 2, was announced recently.

Located at 3359 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, the headquarters will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays through election day, November 6.

Volunteers will staff the office which will serve as a coordination center for Nielsen workers

Baldwin Tops In Bi-Partisan House Measures

Congressman John F. Baldwin tied with one other Congressman in the U.S. House of Representatives with a record of 100 per cent support for bipartisan measures in the second session of the 84th Congress, his office reported this week.

Baldwin was tied with Representative John M. Robsion Jr., of Kentucky. Baldwin and Robsion were the only two members out of the 435 members of the House of Representatives who gave 100 per cent support to all bipartisan issues.

Bright new idea from P. G. & E...

Redecorate your living room with light!

The trick is balanced lighting: Flood your living room with soft, diffused light — enough light to cheer up gloomy corners, brighten colors, bring out the rich textures of lovely fabrics. Balanced lighting helps you look your loveliest, too!

Three steps to balanced lighting:

1. Count your lamps—have you enough? It takes 5 lamps to light the average living room (250 square feet). A single lamp lights just 50 square feet.

2. Check bulb sizes. Table lamps should have one or more bulbs totalling 150 watts; floor lamps should have bulbs totalling 300 watts.

3. Now comes the fun. Move lamps around till soft, diffused light fills room evenly . . . without harsh glare or shadows. Then sit back and enjoy it!

FREE! 30-page booklet gives full home lighting story! Free booklet contains 22 tested lighting recipes for better, brighter living in all the rooms of your home. Write, phone or drop by your nearest P. G. and E. office for "See your home in a new light."

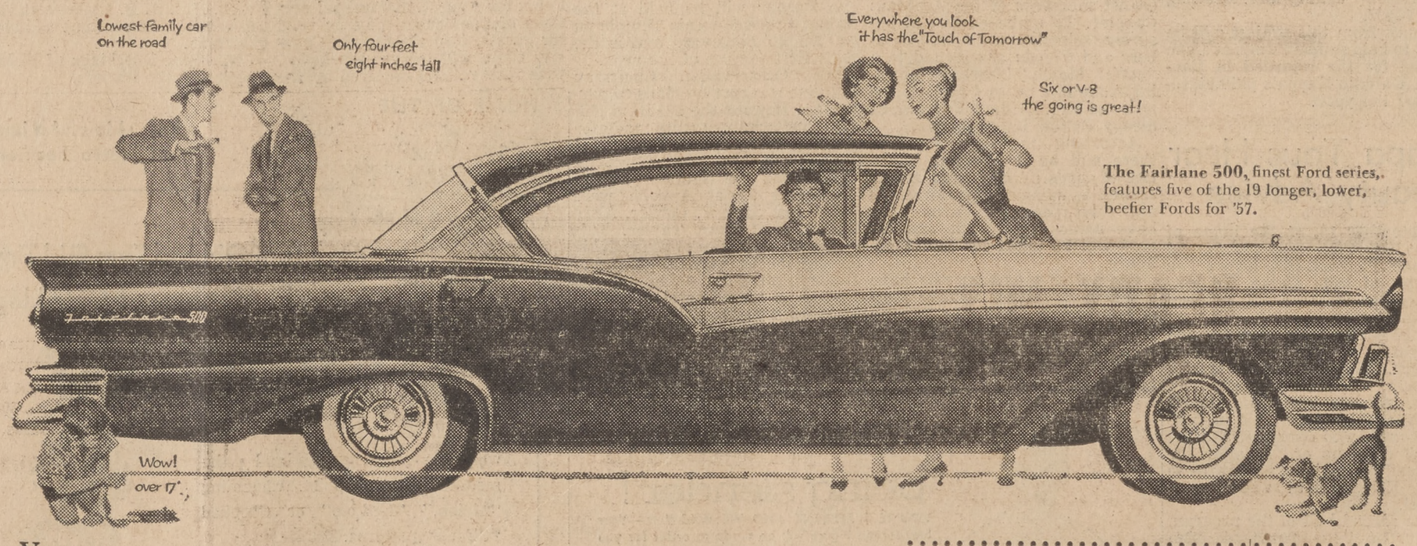
Here Today!

came the magic that made possible so wonderfully different a Ford. In the toughest on-the-road tests ever given to a car, this "Inner Ford" demonstrated that a '57 Ford rides you sweet and low . . . that it takes the bumps without a bobble, the curves without the pitch . . . and, that in power, it "takes nothing from nobody!" Nothing on wheels hurries, handles or holds up like a Ford!

A new kind of FORD with the mark of tomorrow



Lowest family car on the road
Only four feet eight inches tall
Everywhere you look it has the "Touch of Tomorrow"
Six or V-8 the going is great!
The Fairlane 500, finest Ford series, features five of the 19 longer, lower, beefier Fords for '57.
Wow! over 17'.

You're in for a thrill when you see this new knockout named Ford! But save your superlatives till you drive it! That's where the fun really starts.

It's fun just knowing that others who see you wish they were you. For you're commanding the longest, lowest, heaviest, biggest car ever to sport such a low price tag. There's head room to spare for a new fall bonnet . . . stretch-out space for a "Daddy Longlegs."

You'll find that the tough and ready new "Inner Ford" is built to take the roughest road you'll care to travel. New outboard rear springs and ball-joint front suspension let Ford take the turns without the tilt. New swept-back control arms help take bounce out of bumps.

Best of all, Fords library-like quiet is built in. And the new "Inner Ford" is why. For never before in Ford's field has there been a body with so much extra bracing so firmly anchored to its foundation. And you can choose from three big Silver Anniversary V-8's with up to 245 horsepower. There's also a new Mileage Maker Six with 144 horsepower, the most modern Six in the industry.

You can pick your Ford tailored to your desires and your budget, too! Choose from nine Fairlane or Fairlane 500 models or from five Custom or Custom 300 models. Or take your pick from Ford's five longer, lower, new station wagons. Whichever model you select, you'll get a car that's been re-invented from the wheels up!

So there's the new kind of Ford. Big! Gracious! Spacious! A luxury car true—but one that any new-car buyer can easily afford. Come in! See what wonder-cars you can buy now at low Ford prices.

English Teachers Approve Current Program at Meet

Acalanes High School District English instructors this week expressed renewed "confidence in the school's English curriculum as it has developed to date," after returning from a Central California English teachers conference last week at Asilomar.

Teachers of the district who attended agreed that "schools in the Acalanes District are doing a competent job and showing leadership in curriculum development in the field of English."

They were Barbara Clayton, Miramonte English instructor; and Paul Redding, Melissa Rose, Jean Jensen and Elizabeth Bennett, English teachers at Las Lomas High.

Miss Benentt, Las Lomas English department chairman, served as recorder for the discussion section on creative writing. Jean Jensen worked with the high school section on speech.

English teachers in the Central Council meeting were congratulated by Louella B. Cook, president of the national council of English teachers, for the effective program organized by central California instructors.

Acalanes District instructors at the conference also sat in on a discussion between school administrators and classroom instructors on English curriculum development.

School of Travel Is Available to Local Residents

Walnut Creek is to be the home of the Fred N. Schweitzer School of Travel for the Fall series of 1956 which will be held Monday evenings from October 15 to December 3.

The school is an educational enterprise dedicated to the traveler who wants to gain more from a trip abroad. Now in its fourth year in the Bay Area, the school has graduated over 170 Bay Area residents to fuller enjoyment of their travels.

Though the course is of particular interest to travelers, it is designed ot make world affairs a part of the daily thinking of each person.

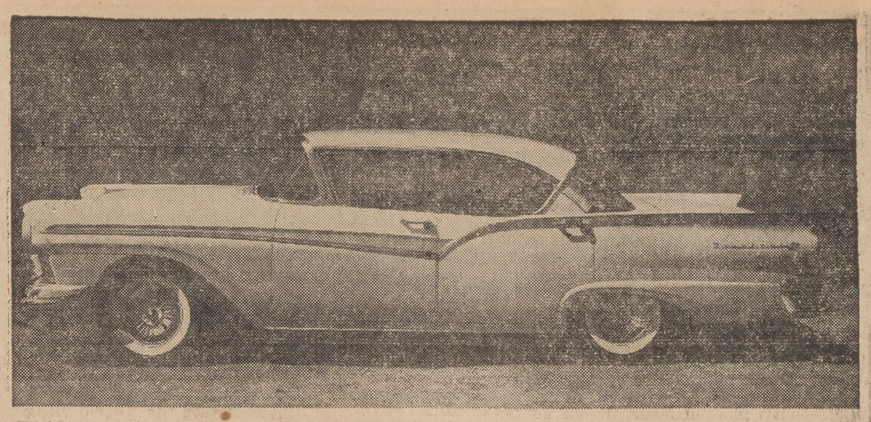
THE SERIES IS comprised of eight weekly programs of 1½ hours length, each divided into three hauf-hour sections. The first is devoted to a discussion of the historical, social, political and economic backgrounds of the major Euroean countries in the light of the situation today.

The second period presents a series of colored slides in the form of a tour, with comments. The third part of each program is given to a discussion with open question period on helpful hints travelers concerning such topics as planning a trip, passports, foreign currency, baggage, shopping, custom regulations, etc.

THE SERIES GIVES an insight into European affairs which adds much to the value and pleasure of a trip, and at the same time gives information which will save the traveler many times the cost of the series.

Fred N. Schweitzer, the organizer and director of the course, has traveled and studied extensively abroad, and has teaching credentials in the State of California.

Further information regarding the series may be obtained at Worden Travel Services, Orinda and Walnut Creek, or by phoning YE 4-8895.



FROM THE ROAD UP, 1957 Fords are a complete departure from previous models. New Ford models are on display at Rett-White Motors of Lafayette and Walnut Creek. This four-door Victoria, a member of the new "Fairlane 500" series, is one of the 19 new body styles. Fairlane models are 9 inches longer and 4 inches lower than their 1956 counterparts.

New Ford Line Now on Display

Ford's 1957 lines introduces 19 entirely new body styles in five series and features three different body sizes on two redesigned chassis lengths, it is pointed out by Rett-White Motors of Lafayette and Walnut Creek. The 1957 models are now on display at the Rett-White showrooms.

The "hardtop convertible" styling formerly available only in Ford's Victoria models set the trend for design of all the closed bodies in the new Fairlane 500 and Fairlane series.

Stylists slimmed down the center pillars and top silhouettes of conventional two-door and four-door models, with the result that when the doors are closed, they have virtually the same outside appearance as the popular pillarless types, Rett-White spokesmen state.

The biggest Ford body — more than 9 inches longer and 4 inches lower than 1956 models — is available in the Fairlane and Fairlane 500 series. There are five models in the Fairlane 500 series, which is Ford's top line — the two-door Club Sedan, the four-door Town Sedan, the two-door Club Victoria and four-door Town Victoria hardtops and the Sunliner convertible.

EDUCATION AND ETHICS TOPS ON LIST . . .

"Bagdad By The Bay" is the scene of the annual California Real Estate Association convention—headquarters at the Sheraton Palace with general educational forums at the Curran Theater.

According to reports from convention headquarters this year's session is off to a flying start and will probably be one of the most successful thus far. A number of our local Contra Costa County Real Estate Board members are actively participating in the program and are also acting as co-hosts for the visiting realtors from the other parts of California.

MORAGA ACTIVITIES . . .

The meeting at Miramonte High School Wednesday afternoon has provided additional information concerning the effect of the Shepherd Canyon plans. Such prominent names as Bollinger Canyon and St. Mary's College are in the heart of this district that will be sliced by the new highway link.

The nearby west portal of the Alamo-Burton Freeway will also have a strong bearing on the final location of the new tunnel highway to East Oakland. Having recently studied a topographical map at the Contra Costa County Highway Design Department it is difficult to move the Burton limited access freeway as it cuts through some of the most rugged back country in our county. . . . It's all progress and moving very fast.

RECOMMENDATION TO HOMEOWNERS . . .

A recent suggestion directed to the office of the General Contractors' Association at Lafayette recites the following: On completion of construction of a new home and the landscape gardeners and builders back fill earth and top soil up against your foundation the following rule should be observed: no earth at grade line should be allowed to come any closer than from six to eight inches below the lowest part of your wood siding as it comes down to meet the foundation.

This provides an air space over which it is very unlikely that any dry rot or fungus could develop. To quote the County Building Inspector Rudy Kraintz "we have found that the home owner, after a few years of landscaping tends to allow the earth to pile up against the wood siding, especially when he builds low brick planters for home and garden beauty. Many of these planters result in the damp earth actually being placed against the wood siding of the house. This process naturally invites dampness into the wood along with dry rot and those mean little bugs called termites.

"This in turn starts decomposition of the wood siding, may even allow dampness to seep through stucco, and especially into the studding which is the main structural part of your home. This damage can result into several thousands of dollars, believe it or not, before it may be discovered."

Sorority Alums Hold Jazzy Fete

Jeanette and Dick Fayram, 81 Sleepy Hollow Lane, Orinda, were hosts recently at the annual fall "Cavalier Dinner" of the Kappa Kappa Gamma East Bay Alumni Association.

Enjoying buffet supper in their patio were some 60 Kappas and their husbands.

After supper many of the guests danced to records reminiscent of their college days, and later on took turns in an impromptu jam session with home-assembled instruments.

Chairman of the affair was Nell Hutton of Sleepy Hollow, who shared honors with Dana Leavitt as musical stars.

'Dream' Fashion Show Set

The enamored hall of the Santa Maria Church of Lafayette will provide the setting for the October 25 "Dreamers' Holiday" fashion show to be presented by the church's Women's Club.

The parade of the latest fall and winter wear, from Hill 'n Dale of Lafayette, will begin at 1 p.m., with commentary by Mary Gordon of TWA. Furs will be shown by David Benioff.

Mrs. George Wheeler is in charge of the affair, assisted by Mesdames George Wiegand, Harry Lavagetto, LeMartin Spittler, Leo Lemire and Louis Trescony.

Models for the show will be the Mesdames:

John Epperson, Robert Boyle, R. C. Frost, Earl Mason, Don Parle White, Carlton Block, Dudley Dobson, Patrick Finn, John Wiegand, John Reilly, George Smith, R. J. Hudechek, Kenneth Schwartb, Kenneth Nattress, Jackie Robeson, Helen Moore and Mary Gohr, and Misses Judy Meyers and Patricia Siefker.

"OUR HEARTS WERE YOUNG AND GAY" will be presented by the Curtain Callers next Friday night and on Saturday night, October 13, at Orinda School. 'Young, Gay Hearts' Will Be on Stage Next Week

"What! Bedbugs here in this room?"

Mrs. Skinner's cries will mark the Curtain Callers' performance of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" next weekend at the Orinda School.

Friday and Saturday nights, October 12 and 13 are the nights for this play about the "Roaring Twenties."

Tickets are now on sale. The cast and members of the Orinda Art Center are selling them. Salesmen complete with costumes and car of the period will be in Orinda Village and at the Orinda Crossroads this weekend.

If somehow you are not able to find any people armed with tickets, call Joan Corelis.

Directing the play is Mrs. Edith Dinkin of Walnut Creek, who was seen recently as Aunt Jane in the Dramateurs' production of "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker." Charlotte Chapple is working with the Curtain Callers on the set design.

The teenagers giving "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" are:

Judy Henderson as Cornelia; Ann Munroe as Emily; Jim Hill as Leo; Steve Flint as Dick; Joan Haefele, Tom Miles, Mark Gathings, Clifford Abraham, Jean Bodfish, Bonnie Gardener, Allen Hewitt, Joanne Sharp, Sherryl Studly, Chris Romine, Tim Peck.

Clothes Make the Man; Also the Boy and Girl?

Many adults and young people, too, are pondering the "why" of juvenile delinquency in America today. They feel that it is getting out of hand, but have been able to offer very few concrete solutions.

But, the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, Inc., recently laid it on the line, in a booklet received by local businessmen.

"IF PARENTS could become interested in the appearance of children who are likely to become delinquents — and these children come from all income groups — then perhaps they would also become interested enough in other aspects of the welfare of their children to prevent them from feeling the needs that drive them to anti-social actions."

In other words, failure by parents and guardians to get "junior" in a good suit of clothes, and "sister" in clean atractive blouse and skirt may not be just a minor oversight.

The booklet quotes Judge George Edwards of the Detroit Circuit Court as saying, "Better standards of conduct are noticed in youngsters who dress normally.

"IN OTHER words, those who dress normally tend to art normally. Those wearing unusual clothes are more likely to become trouble makers and delinquents."

The judge makes no mention of any need for "fancy" clothes or expensive duds. He probably was thinking like Boston Assistant Chief Probation Officer Joseph P. Shea, who was quoted as saying:

"The general run of delinquents wear dungarees and jackets. The black leather jackets are very common. They are like a badge and tend to brand the youngsters."

Mrs. Faith Johnson of a Massachusetts Juvenile Probation office commented:

"Some delinquents even appear in court in motorcycle jackets and sport duck tail hairdo's. We have to turn many of them over to the court's psychiatrists."

THE INSTITUTE men claimed that "odd-ball" behavior is discouraged by ". . . the right clothes for the right time — sportswear clothes for outdoor activities, dignified outfits for the classroom, dress-up suits for social occasions and church — yes, blue jeans, too, for the right occasion such as hard work or hard play."

The Institute concluded, ". . . perhaps there's something about all this that might make parents and teachers feel that we are insisting on too much conformity in the dress of our children.

"Certainly we don't want to put our kids in uniforms. But . . . there is more than an ample variety of the right clothes for the right time available at very moderate prices."

Mental Health Gets Impetus In Meeting

Mrs. Lloyd Richards spoke recently at a meeting of the Central Contra Costa Mental Health Association on "How Mental Health can be brought to the Attention of this Community."

She said, "The Association is not merely concerned with the education of the public about what constitutes mental health but is becoming more and more aware that it has a greater responsibility to the community.

"We recognize we have a task to assist existing social agencies and institutions such at PTA, churches, and schools with their educational programs."

Ed Tonningsen, guidance counselor in the Mt. Diablo School, led a discussion and was assisted by Mrs. Michael Ross, Harold Karr, Mrs. Hans Wendel and Dr. Y. Togasaki.

Fred C. Kracke, attorney in Lafayette and chairman of the Legislation Committee for the association, read a statement that will be presented before the Senate Interim Committee on the Treatment of Mental Illness.

The Senate Committee, composed of Alan Short, Chairman, San Joaquin, Nathan Coombs, Napa, and George Miller Jr., Contra Costa, is to convene in Martinez, Wednesday at 10 a.m.

Scout Camporee Begins At Bar 49, October 13

Boy Scouts from 39 troops of the Diablo Valley area are eligible to attend the first Camporee to be held by Meridian District. It will be October 13 and 14 at Bar 49 Ranch, Mt. Diablo Conucil's newest camp, 31 miles north of Napa.

Fellowship will be among Scouts of Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Danville-Alamo, and Pleasant Hill communities. Activities will include many Scoutcraft skills, a sample of which is the "Paul Bunyan Relay."

THIS EVENT is in three parts and involves wood-splitting, fire-building (without paper or lighters), and a flapjack flipping contest, in which a two-man team cooks a flapjack at least four inches in diameter.

He then runs to a string stretched seven feet high, flips the flapjack over the string, catches it in the frying pan, finishes cooking it, and eats it!

Other optional events are the antelope race, the "Roamin' Chariot Race," and contests in signalling, use of the compass, map reading, and identification of plants, birds, and animals found in nature.

Each Troop will camp by Patrols, the natural "gang element" recognized in the Boy Scout organization. They will do their own cooking and clean-up after meals. A portion of the time will be devoted to a camp "good turn," such as clean-up around the lake area, building of check dams, and construction of abuttments on culverts.

An evening campfire on Saturday will be held at 7:30, featuring stunts and dramatizations, and Scout camp songs.

TRANSPORTATION is provided each Troop by its own leadership and Troop Committee. Registration is from 8 to 10 a.m. at a designated spot near the camp entrance. Members of the Meridian District Committee and the Commissioner Staff are in charge of the Camporee, acting under assignments made by the Camping Activities Committee.

Meridian District Scouting receives about 70 per cent of its financial support from the local United Crusade, which is affiliated with the United Bay Area Crusade.

Two other local residents and members of the Oakland Power Squadron, among the large group who recently passed the Weather Course examination, are Ambrose P. Macdonald, 52 Davis Road, Orinda and Del M. Procter, 1064 Sunnybrook Drive, Lafayette.

Pretty Student To Head Mills Dance Classes

A pretty, talented dancer from Mills College will be the instructor at the new series of Modern Dance classes being organized in the Veterans Memorial Hall in Lafayette.

Miss Marilou Henry, a senior dance student at Mills, has agreed to instruct the classes sponsored by the Mt. Diablo Mills Alumnae Club.

Boys and girls from four years to teen age are invited to join one of the three classes. Instruction will begin in all age groups October 13.

One of the college's top-ranking dance students, Marilou is President of the Mills Dance Club. At Mills she is studying under the noted modern dance authority Eleanor Lauer Grahan.

Reservations and information may be obtained from Mrs. Edith Blackledge, YE 5-1875, or Mrs. Richard Wright, MU 5-4905.

Christian Science

God's healing and redemptive power will be emphasized in services Sunday at Churches of Christ, Scientist, 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and in the newly enlarged Orinda church at 22 Orinda Highway.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will include the following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (472:24-30):

"All reality is in God and His Creation, harmonious and eternal. That which He creates is good, and Me makes all that is made. Therefore the only reality of sin, sickness, or death is the awful fact that unrealities seem heal to human, erring belief, until God strips off their disguise. They are not true, because they are not of God."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (67:1,2):

"God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that they way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations."

School Boards Plan Meeting

Six speakers from West Coast business and industry will tell how public schols may best prepare students for employment at a conference of the Contra Costa County School Boards Association October 17 in the Richmond Auditorium Building.

Adrien J. Falk, recently retired president of a nationally known food firm, will speak on "How Can the Public Schools Best Serve Industry in Contra Costa County?" Falk is chairman of the San Francisco Citizens Commission for Better Schools. He served as a member of the board of the San Francisco Unified School District between 1945 and 1950.

Famed Stars to Open Monday in 'Chalk Garden'

Two great stars: Judith Anderson and Gladys Cooper, in the New York and London success, "The Chalk Garden" will open a four weeks' engagement at the Alcazar Theatre next Monday evening.

There will be nightly performances, except Sunday, and matinees on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

"The Chalk Garden," written by Enid Bagnold, was an October entry last year on Broadway, and was presented in London last April, duplicating there, at the Haymarket Theatre, the success it had enjoyed at the Ethel Barrymore Theatre in New York.

Gladys Cooper will be seen in the role of Mrs. St. Maugham, which she created last season. Judith Anderson's part of the enigmatic, fascinating Miss Madrigal is a departure from the classical portrayals with which she is uaually associated.

Featured in the cast are Frederic Worlock, Stanley Bell, Deirdre Owens and Rosemary Murphy. Others are Audrey Ridgwell, Helen Bonstelle and Ruth Chandler. Albert Marre was the director and Cecil Beaton designed the scenery and costumes.

Volunteer Bureau Needs Volunteers

Volunteers over 25, who have had experience in training group leaders, are needed by a national agency serving the Lafayette area.

A full training course will be given, and volunteers will in turn train group leaders. Some teaching ability would be helpful.

More information may be obtained at the Volunteer Bureau of the Walnut Creek area, 1640 Main Street, or by phoning the bureau, YE 4-0424, open 9 to noon, Monday through Friday.

Air Pollution Not Serious In County, Says Doctor.

"Contra Costa County will never have the air pollution problems of Los Angeles County because it is favored by winds, particularly in the eastern end."

This belief was voiced before directors of the Contra Costa County Development Association by Dr. Glen Kent, air pollution specialist on the staff of the Contra Costa County Health Department.

His observations followed disclosures that the Bay Area pollution control committee, recently constituted under state law, has established air sampling stations in Martinez and Richmond "among 14 or 15 provided in the bay district."

Dr. Kent provided a report on the air pollution law and requirements on the governing board and then subjected himself to questions.

He declared his belief that automobiles are the major contributing factor to the much publicized Los Angeles smog conditions and then made his observation about Contra Costa's position and wind.

It was pointed out that industry has expended "probably half a billion dollars in the Los Angeles area for air pollution control. Dr. Kent was then asked. "Do you consider that after this expenditure and this work that Los Angeles is better off, worse off or holding about even."

"I think it is about even or a little worse," he replied.

He said there is a vast difference in density of air pollution in an area of petroleum burning and one of coal burning economy.

Who Was Driving?

There were approximately 4,800 women drivers and 41,500 men drivers involved in fatal accidents during 1955. Drivers in all accidents — fatal, injury and property damage — were divided: 2,500,000 women; 14,500,000 men.

Las Lomas Knights Meet Panthers Today

Wanut Creek Team Now Ready After Its Rest

The Las Lomas Knights had a bye last week, as for as the varsity was concerned, and took good advantage of it to mend their wounds and get ready for the weekly play from here on in.

The Knights have had more than their share of rough breaks this season. While they will be without the services of Halfback Duane Brown and Quarterback Jim Symington for several weeks, they will have several veterans returning after having been sidelined.

Chief of the returnees is Webb Johnson, last year's All-County center. He is being moved to an offensive end and a defensive linebacker after sitting out with a wrenched ankle that has finally come around.

Pete Ostrom, a halfback, is also back in trim after a bruised leg slowed him down.

THE KNIGHTS are scheduled to play the Antioch Panthers today. The game was originally set for Acalanes Memorial Field tonight, but an Acalanes dance shifted the game. Las Lomas planned to make it a 3:30 p.m. game at Las Lomas, but latest reports had Antioch protesting the shift, and things were far from settled.

Tentatively, though, it's 3:30 this afternoon at the Walnut Creek school.

The junior varsities were supposed to meet, but when and where were not settled at this writing .

ANTIOCH in its league opener last week lost a close decision to the Diablo Devils, 7-6. Scouting reports put the Devils in the "lucky class," as their winning score came in the final three minutes, with Antioch in charge most of the way.

A heavy line and a light but fast backfield pose a problem for the Knights' defense. The return of Webb Johnson could go a long way toward solving the problem, however, as he made All-County last year in his outstanding defensive play.

Much of the Knights' success will depend on how a pair of senior quarterbacks fill in for the injured Jim Symington. The pair are Terry Yeager and Don Crowlie.

THE LATEST FIND in the Knight camp is a lad by the name of Joe Emmerick, a sophomore student via Germany. Tipping the scales at 170, he has shown brilliant form in place-kicking, with great consistency. Reports have it that he boots pigskin with the side of his foot a la soccer and is deadly inside the 20.

Could be the Knights will emphasize the field goal in a tight game!

The game is tough to figure, bu give the Knights an edge, with home field and a week's rest.

MATADORS AND KNIGHTS battled it out at the Miramonte field in Orinda last Friday afternoon, in their league opener in junior varsity play. Las Lomas emerged the winner, 14-6, but the Miramonte lads gave the Knights plenty of competition. Here is a view showing a play on which Las Lomas ran deep into Matador territory. —Sun photo by Mattson

Matadors, Don Babes Will Tangle Today at Acalanes

The Miramonte Matadors, thirsting for victory after losing a close decision to Las Lomas last Friday in their season opener, promise to provide stiff competition for the Acalanes Babes at Acalanes Memorial Field in a 3:30 game this afternoon.

The Miramonte eleven, under new headman Coach Don Phillips, give promise of being a tough nut to crack, and the Dons will have to be at their best if they are to carve out a win.

The Don junior varsity, under a new coach, Jack Carhart, has a 6-6 tie with Alhambra and last Friday night dropped a 9-6 decision to Pleasant Hill after leading in the early stages of the game 6-0.

THE MATADORS were handicapped last week due to injuries to several key players, plus several losses due to scholastic difficulties.

Bill Horton, a regular who has been out with a banged-up hand, is back and has looked good in early week practice sessions. Bruce Hilger, first-string center, is ready and willing, as is End Tim Crawford.

A new addition who promises to help is Bill Klement, who was last year's number one fullback. He has been taking a turn at guard, where additional depth is needed, and will probably double as a fullback.

The Don coaches hqalvbgk

THE DONCOACHES have been working overtime with their charges and promise a few surprises for this afternoon's game. Ace of the Don backfield is expected to be Halfback Mike Latone, coupled with Quarterback Mike McDonald.

The game looks to be fairly even, with the edge in running to Miramonte and in passing to the Dons.

The Matadors played their first official league football last Friday afternoon and came close to upsetting the dope bucket when they came up with a scrappy eleven that threatened all the way, with due respect to the Las Lomas club that played some hard ball of their own to win, 14-6.

THE GAME WAS on a junior varsity level, inasmuch as Miramonte has but frosh and soph classes and it's their first try at league play.

Played at the Miramonte field, the game found the two clubs battling back and forth, with neither club scoring in the opening quarter. In the second quarter Los Lomas got on the scoreboard and converted, to take a 7-0 lead.

The score came about when Miramonte was forced to punt from deep in their own territory and the Las Lomas Knights took the pigskin on their own 40, to start a touchdown drive. They made a first down on short gainers, then a pass and run plus a 15-yard penalty on Miramonte brought the ball to the 2-yard mark. On the second down the Knights' quarterback, Steve Moore took it over on a quarterback sneak.

Halfback Cecil Adams ran the ball over for the extra point.

IN THE THIRD quarter Miramonte kicked off and held Las Lomas so they were forced to punt on fourth down. The Matadors failed to gain but got a big break when they recovered a Knight bobble on the 50.

The Matadors drove to two consecutive first downs, aided by some fine running by Halfback Gary Lucas, who climaxed the drive by taking a reverse from Fullback Billy Clifford and outracing the field 30 yards, to score standing up. The attempted conversion kick was low, and the count stood 7-6 in favor of Las Lomas.

The Knights came charging back when they pounced on a Miramonte fumble and wound up with the ball on Miramonte's 25-yard stripe. In two series of plays Las Lomas took the ball to the four and, on a roll-out pass to the right, Quarterback Steve Moore tossed the ball to End Bob Gomez.

ONCE MORE, Adams ran the ball over tackle for the conversion, making it 14-6. That ended the scoring, although both teams threatened in the fourth quarter.

'55 Gael Quint Now Coaching

Five of the seven seniors on last year's St. Mary's basketball team have entered the coaching ranks in California high schools.

Ex-Gael guards Stan Stewart and Jerry Phillips have been named head and assistant casaba coaches respectively at Sacred Heart, San Francisco.

Tutoring varsity baseball and jayvee track and basketball at Oakland's Bishop O'Dowd is Frank LaPorte.

Returning to his native Los Angeles area, all time St. Mary's scoring great Bill "Weelo" Sanchez takes over the hardwood helm at Gardena's newly built Serra high.

Horsemen to Hold Dinner

The Contra Costa Horseman's Association will hold its annual Fiesta tomorrow night at the Don Fernando Pacheco Adobe, 3119 Grant Street, Concord.

Festivities will start with a steak barbecue at 6 p.m. Chefs in charge will be Steve Stimpson and Buck Van Cleave.

General chairmen for the affair are Eddie and Vi Gomez; co-chairmen Ted and Babe Albro, Monte and Edna Petrie.

There will be games for all and prizes will be awarded to the couple wearing the "Best Spanish Costumes."

Ex-Acalanes Sports Stars Visit Old Stomping Ground

By ERWIN MATTSON

Lloyd Torchio was in town a week ago and his many friends enjoyed seeing him, even if it was only for a few minutes.

Lloyd was a standout all-around athlete at Acalanes and later starred as a center at the University of California.

AT PRESENT he is coaching the line and scouting for Washington State College.

He was down to see Cal play Baylor, then took in the San Jose game for scouting purposes. Lloyd, looking lean and trim, appears happy in his new job, and from all reports the college is happy with him.

Bart Ferro, another three-letterman at Acalanes who graduated two years ago, was recently discharged from the Navy and two weeks ago was married to his high school gal — Sue Fowler.

Rumor has it that he may sign a pro baseball contract with a big league club. If such should be the case, East Contra Costa baseball coach Hugh Boschetti wouldn't be very happy as he is counting on Bart for third base duty this spring.

Bart, along with his old time teammate Richard "Red" Jones, is spending weekends playing semi-pro ball in the Bay Area circuit.

THE SCHOOL ATHLETIC picture is bound to change in the near future as far as league set-up is concerned.

Clayton Valley will open with 1300 pupils as a part of the Diablo Unified District in 1958, as is Tice Valley High School in the Acalanes District.

One problem will be football lights, particularly in the Diablo District.

PLEASANT HILL High has a fine new field, with bleachers and fencing. They could well use their own lights as they have to use Diablo's field, as does Pacifica.

It would be a fine community project to put up lights on the Pleasant Hill field. This would be a community asset that could be used for a number of things.

Pleasant Hill has developed a fine recreational set-up, and lights would round out the acquisition of needed facilities.

I, FOR ONE, like lights for several reasons. First, because they make it much easier on players and make for a better brand of ball. Second, they enable people to see and be interested in the game.

Third, because they provide funds that broaden the scope of the all-around athletic program.

To me, the good far overshadows the evil, and the end results are well worth the effort.

TAIL LIGHTS

Automobile tail lights are required to be visible 500 feet, reports the California State Automobile Association. The light which illuminates your license plate must make the plate readable from a distance of 50 feet.

27-8 Win Is Tallied For ECCJC

East Contra Costa Junior College gridders defeated Santa Rosa JayVees, 27-8, this week.

The victorious Vikings' first touchdown came when Gary Pudwell blocked a kick, picked up on the two-yard line. Dan Young went over left guard for the touchdown. Parnel converted.

In the second quarter, John Brown, halfback, went three yards off right end for the second TD, and Parnel converted.

A 36-yard pass from quarterback Jim Rose to Jon Palmer paid off, and the half time score was 21-0, after Parnel's kick for the extra point.

In the third quarter, Bob Autentico of the Vikings fumbled in the end zone, and the Santa Rosans got two points.

Rose passed 36 yards to Parnel for the final Vicking TD in the third quarter. Santa Rosa collected its only touchdown in the final minute of the fourth when Carasali passed to McDonald for 15 yards and pay dirt.

Preps Face New Gridiron League Contests Today

The Diablo Valley Athletic League gets in another round of play as all clubs but Acalanes, with the bye, swinging into action today.

In one game the Antioch Panthers and the Las Lomas Knights are in pretty much of a jumble as to time and place. Originally it was set for Acalanes Memorial Field but an Acalanes dance caused a shift. Time and place were tentatively set for 3:30 p.m. at Las Lomas but Antioch hadn't confirmed at a late hour.

Pacifica and Pleasant Hill tangle under the lights of Mt. Diablo High's field, with the junior varsities kicking off at 5:45 p.m. and the varsity game getting under way at 8 p.m.

In the league's other game, it's Diablo's Devils vs. the Pittsburg Pirates at Pittsburg. It's another double-header, with the JVs at 5:45 p.m. and the big one at 8 p.m.

If for any reason you lose the gas cap on your car, be sure it is replaced with the correct type cap, cautions the California State Automobile Association. A vented gasoline tank cap is necessary to insure proper "breathing."

Rams Frighten Don Juggernaut; Drop 14-7 Closie

The Acalanes Dons scored in the initial quarter of play and again in the fourth quarter to eke out a 14-7 win over the unpredictable Pleasant Hill Rams.

The Rams scored their lone tally in the third quarter on an intercepted pass.

THE CONTEST began as the prognosticators had predicted. . . this was to be "no contest." When junior fullback Stewart Busby crashed over from the one in the first quarter, he climaxed a crunching drive that carried the Dons 62 yards down the field in just seven plays.

Busby split the uprights and the score stood at 7-0. The spectators waited for it to mount.

They were a long time waiting. The Rams stiffened and bucked back, and the Rams, while running roughshod, were not able to penetrate the other's defenses close to the goal line.

THE SCORING was finally resumed after the halftime break, but it was the Rams who hung up the markers as defensive halfback Don Salazar got in the way of Don quarterback Rich Markstein's aerial and galloped over the goal line standing up.

End Dick Garren kicked the conversion and the game was knotted, 7, all.

The Rams, who took a 12-0 beating from St. Mary's High last week after a brilliant season opener, were holding the favored Acalanes crew on even terms, and started hoping for an upset.

In the fourth quarter, with the ball on their own 35, the Rams' dreams crashed around their shoulders as the bounded from the ball carrier's hands.

AN ALERT DON pounced on the pigskin and the end was imminent.

Two line plunges brought the ball to tthe Ram 26. Then Markstein, atoning for his third-period misfire, faded back as if to pass, saw an open field around his left end and danced over for the score.

The conversion was good and the score stood at 14-7. The struggle continued, but the contest was over. That's the way it ended.

STATISTICALLY, the score was a fair indication of the superiority of the Rams. They held an edge in first downs, 10-2, and outgained Pleasant Hill on the ground 218 yards to 55.

In the jitters department the Dons fumbled three times but recovered twice. They also recovered both of the Pleasant Hill fumbles.

Standouts for the Dons were Busby and Harold Ecklund, a pair of hard-driving backs, while tackle John Cadwell was a bright light on defense.

The Rams showed best on defense, with ends Garren and Don Jackson and halfback Salazar drawing special comment for their play.
